

WALL STREET INVESTMENT RAILS REACH NEW PEAKS

Market Turns Irregular Just Before the Close After Some Specialties Also Had Made New Highs.

NEW TOPS MADE BY SPECIALTIES

Commonwealth Power Closes 10 Points Lower and General Electric 5—Call Money 9 Per Cent.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—The stock market turned irregular just before the close today after an earlier outburst of buying had carried more than a score of the leading stocks and specialties to new high records. Profit-taking in anticipation of another large increase in Federal Reserve brokers' loans tomorrow, coupled with the desire of many large traders to lighten their commitments over the Labor day holiday, accounted for the late reaction.

Governors of the New York Stock Exchange voted today to close the exchange on Saturday, granting the petition of members for a three-day holiday.

Late selling was particularly effective in the mail order, communications and public utility shares, several of which closed with net declines of 2 to 10 points. Early gains of 5 to nearly 18 points in the rails and specialties were cut down sharply.

The high rate of business and industrial activity was stressed by operators for the advance as the basis for their continued confidence. Emphasis laid on the steady increase in freight car loadings which is construed as an indication that a large volume of goods is moving into consumption. There has been a slight seasonal falling off in steel output but the rate is still well above what it was a year ago.

Today's dispatches from The Hague, indicating that the Germans had balked on the allied agreement on reparations, was somewhat of a disappointment, although bankers privately expressed the opinion that the difficulties would be at a minimum and the Young plan saved. There was little change in credit conditions, call money renewing at 9 per cent.

Stock Down 10 Points.
Commonwealth Power closed 10 points lower, Brooklyn Union Gas 7½, Hocking Valley and General Electric 5 and Gillette Razor, National Cash Register, Allied Chemicals, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, United Aircraft, Inland Steel, Consolidated Gas, International Telephone, and a sprinkling of others lost 2 to 4 points on the day.

Pere Marquette lost 5 points of its 17½ point gain. Air Reduction lost nearly 4 points of its 11-point gain. Atchafalaya, New York Central, National Electric, Norfolk & Western, Ingersoll Rand, A. M. Byers, National Lead, were among the many issues to show net gains of 4 points, or more. Goodyear Rubber was heavily bought at the close, showing a net gain of more than 6 points at 11½.

Transcontinental Oil, in which a large new pool recently was organized, changed hands in enormous volume, crossing 15 to a new high record.

Total sales fell just short of the 4,000,000 share mark.

Foreign exchange trading was quiet with price changes narrow and irregular. Sterling Cables were slightly firmer at $4.84 5/16.

Steel Trade Situation.
Continuation of a fairly active demand for steel sheets and plates despite a falling off in the volume of new business for nearly all other products of the steel mills is a surprising feature of the weekly reviews of that trade. This is regarded as all the more notable since the demand for automobiles experienced its midsummer decline. Orders for sheets in U. S. are reported to have been almost equal to shipments. Plate mills are operating at close to capacity. The full demand for other steel products is considered merely seasonal and influenced mainly by lessening of automobile demand and a setback in farm implements production with good prospects for recovery when the fall buying season begins.

Closing stock prices, with other tables and market news, will be found on pages 30, 31, 32 and 33.

FIRST BLUE GOOSE NEST WITH EGGS FOUND IN CANADA

Ontario Government Official on Way Back to Ottawa With Rare Birds.

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 28.—Out of the frozen north comes word that J. Dewey Soper, special investigator of the northwest territories branch of the Department of Interior, has found the nest of that enigma of ornithologists—the blue goose.

For years the blue goose has baffled hunters. Nobody ever saw a blue goose nest, or a blue goose egg, or a blue goose fledgling. The blue goose appeared every summer, but nobody knew whence it came or where it went in the autumn.

Soper made his find away off in the Barrenlands and is now en route to Ottawa with blue goose eggs, nests, goslings, and mature birds.

TWO MISSOURI CONVICTS RECAPTURED AT COLE CAMP

George Kowert and Len Brookshire Caught After Telephoning for Taxicab.

By the Associated Press.
COLE CAMP, Mo., Aug. 28.—George Kowert, Kansas City doctor, and Len Brookshire of Tulsa, Ok., the two convicts serving sentences for bank robbery, who escaped late yesterday from the Missouri Penitentiary at Jefferson City when they walked out of a gate and were mistaken for guards, were captured near here today by Sheriff John W. Allen.

The men were arrested with little difficulty. One attempted to run when the sheriff and his posse arrived at their hiding place on a farm six miles northeast of here, but halted when several shots were fired in his direction.

The pair had telephoned to Cole Camp for a taxicab to bring them to town, but the taxicab man, suspiciously notified the sheriff.

HOOKED SWORDFISH PIERCES BOTTOM OF FISHING BOAT

Nearly Upsets Launch Off California Coast Before It Is Gaffed.

By the Associated Press.
AVALON, Santa Catalina Island, Cal., Aug. 28.—The beak of a big swordfish, piercing the planking of the fishing launch Chapple, remained here today as evidence of a furious fight between the sea creature and a fisherman which ended in victory for the latter.

The fisherman, W. G. Peterson of Los Angeles, hooked the Marlin swordfish with a line. Infuriated, the animal lunged at the launch, rammed its spear through the gunwale and up through the deck. The fish gave a lunge which nearly overturned the launch and which broke his sword-like nose off short.

Peterson gaffed the fish with the aid of the launch captain. It weighed 372 pounds.

FOUR HURT WHEN PLANE HITS EUREKA, UTAH, CITY HALL

Passenger Carrier Crashes Into Tower; Passerby on Street Hit by Wing.

By the Associated Press.
EUREKA, Utah, Aug. 28.—A passenger plane crashed into the tower of the City Hall today and plunged into a crowd assembled for a community celebration, injuring four persons, two of them seriously.

James Fletcher, the pilot; Kenneth Jones, 17 years old, of Eureka, Utah, and Helen Strong, 15, all of whom were in the plane, were sent to a hospital. John Bougan, 14, was struck by the wing of the machine while walking on the street.

LINDBERGH STUNTS AT CLEVELAND RACES

The Associated Press. CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 28.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh performed today as a stunt pilot. Thrust care aside, he gave one of the most daring exhibitions of aerial acrobatics the national air races have seen.

Col. Lindbergh yielded to the requests of the air-race officials, and in a perfect figure eight, he took the air with two crack whirly whirly stunts which had the spectators clutching the sides of their seats.

Starting out in regular combat formation, with Col. Lindbergh leading the unit, the three flyers lined altitude over the airport and then dived straight for the stands as their imaginary enemy. Roaring down to within 50 feet of the awed watchers, the jets suddenly zoomed upward. As they climbed, Lindbergh, still in combat formation, winged his plane and climbed, while flying upside down.

Regaining their altitude, the flyers again dived for the grand stands and swung sharply over them in a perfect figure eight. Again the flying Colonel winged himself over and roared across the airport flying upside down at 2000 ft., maintaining the unit's battle formation all the while.

The trio then climbed to 4000 ft. and shot down in a new dive until it seemed they all would crash. But the doughty flyers lightened out and zoomed up almost within reaching distance of the grand stands. Lindbergh, in the lead, looped back across the airport, his companions banked sharply off in the unit's breakaway. Back came Lindbergh for more, swinging his fleet ship into a barrel roll in front of the stands, turned, came back and finally did another. Roaring, the Colonel seemed unable to shake his mood and went into a series of barrel rolls and loops, turning back and gliding carefully to earth. The show was over.

CAUGHT 10 YEARS AFTER HE KILLED HIS WIFE'S UNCLE

Frank Badalato, Who Shot Angelo Porcelli, Had Been Trained by Brother of Dead Man.

SLAYER SAYS VICTIM WAS FIRST TO FIRE

Police Informed That Offer of $15,000 Was Made to Patch Up Family Differences.

Two years after he shot and killed his wife's uncle with garlicked bullets, Frank Badalato was arrested yesterday afternoon, police disclosing that he had been trained about the country by an uncle of the dead man.

Flying from St. Louis on the night of June 2, 1919, when he shot and killed Angelo Porcelli, Badalato sought to hide in Cleveland, Chicago, Houston and Fort Wayne, but was tracked down and carried away by his nemesis, the police.

"This brother had sworn to avenge the killing of Porcelli," Police Captain Nally reported today. "He trained Badalato everywhere, usually only a jump ahead of him. The brother's father sent to Chicago one time, saying his son was about to kill Badalato there. The father was killed in an auto accident while in Chicago."

$15,000 Peace Offer.

"We arrested Badalato after receiving information that he was back in town and had offered a $15,000 settlement to Porcelli's family to restore peace and get the brother off his trail. The offer fell through."

Badalato, returning to St. Louis 10 months ago, engaged in the fruit business at 5500 Easton avenue, without his presence becoming widely known among local Italians. His business failing, he went to work at a spaghetti factory in the downtown district and took up residence at 822 Carr, where he had lived before the killing 10 years ago.

Badalato is 32 years old. His wife divorced him after his flight from St. Louis, remarried and is now Mrs. Julia DeFried, 4552 Westminster place.

Garlic Coated Bullets.

She testified at the inquest in Fred's death that she had seen her husband remove the lead from some cartridges, mix a quantity of mashed garlic with wax, smear the lead with the composition and then replace the bullets in the shells, telling her, "I'm fixing these for your relatives." The shooting followed.

Asked why her husband had especially prepared the bullets with garlic, she testified he had said he hated her relatives and wanted to make sure of their death. He told her, she added, that if the bullets themselves did not kill the garlic would.

Porcelli was killed after going to the Badalato home to act as peacemaker in a domestic quarrel. When Porcelli rebuked Badalato, the latter got out a revolver and began firing. It was testified:

Badalato told a different story: "Angelo called me many bad names and accused me of calling my wife bad names. He pulled out a revolver and was going to shoot me."

"I took my gun from a dresser drawer and held it in my hand. My mother-in-law then came and told me to take my gun from me. Angelo began to shoot. He fired two shots before I fired my gun and shot him."

Victim's Brother Arrives.

An exiled man who identified himself as Angelo Porcelli's brother, Peter, appeared at Headquarters today after telegraphing from Chicago: "Hold the murderer."

"I want to see the man who shot my brother," announced Peter Porcelli. "I want to see him face to face, look him in the eye. I want to see the insect who shot my brother and caused the death of my father, who was killed by an automobile, and my mother, who died from grief. I've been trailing him for 10 years. If I could get my hands on him, our family honor would be avenged."

After being searched, Porcelli was taken before the prisoner, with a screen separating them and guards standing by. Staring Badalato in the eye, Porcelli launched into a tirade in Italian.

"See," said Badalato, "he still threatens me. He told me: 'You're here now, but you don't know where you'll be an hour from now.'"

Two Illinois Drug Firms Say They Had Option on Interest Sold to President Lawry.

A suit for $800,000 damages was filed in Federal Court here today by two Illinois drug companies, who alleged they held a 50-day option to purchase a 65 per cent interest in the Hannibal Pharmacal Co. for $120,000 in 1926, when Mrs. Natalie E. Frier, widow of the founder of the company, and her father, W. H. Ely, sold their interest to Rolla Lawry, now president of the company, for $116,000.

The Billikin Wholesale Drug Co. and the Royal Drug Co. are plaintiffs in the suit, which names Lawry, Mrs. Frier, Ely and W. W. Henderson, a lawyer, as defendants. The stock is now said to be worth more than $600,000, the increase in value being attributed to the financial success of the company's patented proprietary known as Neet.

Recently, after extended litigation, Lawry agreed to pay Mrs. Frier $176,500 in addition to $102,000 she originally received, and Ely $58,500 instead of $44,000. Mrs. Frier and Ely had charged that Lawry misrepresented the value of the stock when he persuaded them to sell out.

The suits allege a $200,000 actual and $500,000 punitive damages.

Will of Stove Manufacturer Disposing of $300,000 Estate Is Filed.

The will of Frank R. Henry, president of the Majestic Manufacturing Co., who died last Thursday, was filed in Probate Court today, disposing of an estate estimated at $300,000.

A special trust fund of $125,000 is created for the benefit of the widow, Mrs. Mary V. Henry, who also will receive a life income from the residue of the estate after specific bequests totaling $25,000. The income from the residue will be paid, however, should Mrs. Henry remarry. Specific bequests include $5000 to the Hamilton Avenue Christian Church and $10,000 each to two daughters, Mrs. G. S. Morley and Mrs. Charles M. Pogue.

80-YEAR-OLD WOMAN STRUCK ON HEAD BY NEGRO ROBBER

Mrs. Susie Perline, 80 years old, 2825 Thomas street, was struck on the head with a shoe and knocked down at 1 p. m. today by a Negro who entered her home and demanded money.

The Negro looted a trunk owned by a roomer at Mrs. Perline's home, taking some money, the amount of which was not known. Mrs. Perline was taken to City Hospital suffering with a possible fracture of the skull and is in serious condition because of her age.

WITHDRAWS SUIT FOR DIVORCE

The divorce suit of Mrs. Letitia Russell, 55 years old, 40 Gray avenue, Webster Groves, against William Russell, 23, was withdrawn at Clayton yesterday by Mrs. Russell.

She was the widow of William J. Russell, wealthy coffee merchant, who died Jan. 29, and was his principal heir. She married Russell at Hillsboro, Mo., June 20. Her divorce petition alleged general indignities.

10,000 WITNESS FAIRY PAGEANT AT FOREST PARK

"Sleeping Beauty" Given as Climax of Twenty-Third Municipal Playgrounds Festival.

Fairies came once more to the twin oaks of their favored dell in Forest Park yesterday; fairies and "The Sleeping Beauty," and they danced h-r-sadly to sleep and danced her gladly awake again.

They were Moments, the turns of that drama. There was the breathless pause before the fairies came; the lovely moment when their white wings flickered and their toes twinkled between the tall oaks; the shuddering moment when the Wicked Fairy shook her curse over the cowering Queen and the helpless babe; the agonizing moment when the Princess pricked her finger and her graceful head dropped like a flower; the thrilling moment when the Prince came and the wall of thorns turned to roses, and the glad, shivery moment of awakening.

For at least two hours before, while cynics from 2 to 14 years old, forgetful of the games and contests of the twenty-third annual Municipal Playground festival, their little brothers and sisters had been remembering the fairies with the "Mo-therr, when are we going to the Munnispull Theater?"

Long Queue at Theater. Though 10 o'clock was the hour when the fairies came, by 2:20 p. m. thousands of children with their mothers, and sometimes their fathers, too, were waiting for the gates of the theater to open. And all babies, themselves, that time he came to the twin oaks, never felt a more excited expectancy in that moment when he stood before the robbers' cave and said, "Open, sesame."

Nearly as many children waited there, for quite as long a time, as had waited in the morning for the ice cream, cakes and candy—free—which fittingly began the festival. At 10:30 a. m. the happy line extended clear across the cricket grounds, two blocks or more on two sides of the booth marked "Times Good Fellows' Treat."

They tumbled from that booth into the arms of a policeman who gave them a pat and a shove toward this game or that race, and they started running, eating and watching in the same instant. Big sisters there were with both hands full of little brothers and sisters, both hands full of the families' "treats" and only a single pair of hands to carry both burdens; "tough" young men there were, with pockets full of stones from the convenient River des Peres, but once a playground supervisor had attended to these crises, even the frantic big sister and the terrorized little sisters were happy and active and noisy as anyone.

For two hours of the morning, and two of the afternoon, they scurried and shouted and scattered picnic ruins—desolated sandwich breadcrumbs, ravished pickle-boats, ruffled candy wrappers, barren apple cores and peach stones—all over Forest Park, and then all that helter-skelter took on meaning and direction. The direction was the Municipal Theater, and the meaning was the yearly return of the fairies.

1000 Children in Pageant.

Nobody knew just how many children, with attendant grown-ups, had run loose in the park, but once they were gathered in the theater it was easy to see there were 10,000 or more. The great amphitheater was filled, with hundreds standing. On the stage appeared 1000 children, in more bright colors than any rainbow's, to sing the national anthem with a brave fluttering of tiny flags. And then they were children no longer for this hour. To the young spectators, they were beloved or terrible but familiar acquaintances; for the older, they were gracious puppets of memory.

28 MISSOURI CONVICTS TO GET PAROLE HEARINGS SEPT. 9-10

Seven From St. Louis and Three From County Among Applicants.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 28.—Twenty-eight convicts in the Missouri penitentiary will have hearings before the State Penitentiary Board Sept. 9 and 10 on their applications for paroles. Parole Commissioner Mosby announced today. Among them are 10 from St. Louis and St. Louis County.

The St. Louisans to receive hearings are: Yewell Russell, served 18 months of seven-year sentence for manslaughter; Jesse Peal, served one year and eight months of five-year sentence for robbery; Richard Klein, served 16 months of eight-year sentence for robbery; Alfred S. Selvazgi, served two years and nine months of 11-year sentence for robbery; Tom Doyle, served five years and two months of 20-year sentence for robbery; Richard O'Neal, served four years and six months of 10-year sentence for robbery; Guy M. Baskett, served one year and nine months of five-year sentence for robbery.

Three St. Louis County convicts to receive hearings are Richard Hannon, who has served 11 months of a five-year sentence for an offense against a woman, and Joe Cavenah and Raleigh Cavenah, sentenced to two years each from last Jan. 22 for attempted burglary.

Kills Self at Bridge Game.

CHAPLAIN, N. C., Aug. 28. Harry Maccham, 21 years old, of North Wilkesboro, N. C., summer school student at the University of North Carolina, was playing bridge this afternoon, but with constant ill luck. "I'm going to shoot the next person who deals me a bad hand," he declared, laying a pistol on the table. He dealt next himself, laid down a "yarborough," hand without a face card, and picking up the pistol, killed himself.

ST. LOUIS' ACCIDENTAL DEATH RATE 40.6 FOR EACH 100,000

One of Lowest in List, Fatalities Numbering 203 in Seven Months.

An accidental death rate of 40.6 for each 100,000 of population was recorded in St. Louis for the first seven months of 1929, according to figures released today by the St. Louis Safety Council, based on a compilation by the National Safety Council, 700 hundred and three accidental deaths from all causes occurred here during the seven month period.

The St. Louis rate is lower than those of most of the cities shown in an incomplete list of accident fatality rates. Cleveland, the only city of comparable size recorded, had a rate of 51.9.

EQUITY SUSPENDS DEMPSEY

Actors' Union Charges Him With Disloyalty in Movie Fight.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Jack Dempsey was suspended by Actors' Equity Association yesterday on charges of disloyalty in the recent attempt by Equity to extend its sway over the field of talking and sound pictures.

Dempsey's wife, Estelle Taylor, who also is a member of Equity, was not suspended. Members of the Equity council, after a four-hour session at which Ethel Barrymore's case was said to have been the storm center, refused to discuss the action against Dempsey. Miss Barrymore's activities in Hollywood, Cal., were considered by Equity officers to have been antagonistic to the interests of the association.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Revenue freight loadings for the week ended Aug. 17 were reported yesterday by the American Railway Association to have totaled 1,100,267 cars.

This was an increase of 9551 cars over the preceding week and an increase of 42,358 cars above the corresponding week of a year ago. Grain and grain products loading for the week ended Aug. 17 totaled 61,423 cars, an increase of 216 cars over the corresponding week of 1928; ore, 74,574, increase 10,348; miscellaneous freight, 437,260, increase 22,055; coal, 162,862, increase 2136; livestock, 24,651, decrease 919; loading of merchandise less than carload, 260,917, increase 4110; forest products, 67,975, increase 2048; coke, 11,505, increase 2366.

Four Killed in Plane Crash.

COCHABAMBA, Bolivia, Aug. 28.—Four persons were killed here yesterday when a falling airplane struck an electric trolley wire and caught fire. Those killed were Col. Jorge Alipaz, Jose Dorado, Pilot Arthur Schneider and Mechanic Juan Roman.

The Shuttle is scheduled to fly over New York about 2 p. m.

ENDURANCE PLANE SHUTTLE REACHES MITCHELL FIELD

Capt. Eaker Arrives in New York on Attempted Non-stop Transcontinental Round Trip.

MITCHELL FIELD, N. Y., Aug. 28.—Capt. Ira Eaker and his endurance plane Shuttle, in which he is attempting a non-stop refueling transcontinental flight, was sighted over the field here at 5:10 p. m. today.

Eaker, who is making a return non-stop flight from Oakland, Cal., does not intend to refuel his plane here. Food and mail will be lowered to the Shuttle, however, from a plane piloted by Lieut. Elwood Quesada.

By CAPT. IRA C. EAKER.

Pilot of the Refueling Plane, Shuttle, Attempting to Set a New World's Endurance Record, Flying Between San Francisco and New York.

ABOARD THE "THE SHUTTLE." Near Elko, Nev., Aug. 27.—Four hours out of Oakland and everything going along fine. We are approaching Elko, our first refueling stop and expect to drop this message there. Over the mountains between the coast and here the going was rough, but the weather is fine now and our engine is running smoothly. The instruments are functioning perfectly and we ought to have a good trip to New York.

Tommy (Lieut. Bernard Thompson) has slept more than an hour already.

I took the ship off at Oakland at 8:29 a. m. and have been flying steadily ever since, but Tommy will get his chance at the stick after we refuel.

By the Associated Press.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Aug. 28.—

The Boeing Shuttle, piloted by Capt. Ira Eaker, seeking a new trans-continental refueling flight record, roared over Cheyenne last night, took on 200 gallons of gasoline and disappeared.

With the precision of a military maneuver, the planes completed their two contacts in 20 minutes, and when the refueling plane piloted by "Slim" Lewis, the country's second ranking air mail pilot, landed, some 39 minutes after the Shuttle had appeared as a speck in the western sky, the endurance plane had disappeared in the east. The Shuttle is scheduled to fly over New York about 2 p. m.

A lecture tour over the trail of the Lewis and Clark Expedition will begin here, where the expedition began, with a lecture at 8 p. m. Monday at Jefferson Memorial by P. E. Cox of Nashville, Tenn., president of the Capt. Meriwether Lewis Memorial Association.

Cox will illustrate his account of the expedition with lantern slides. His tour is to spread information of the Meriwether Lewis National Monument in Lewis County, Tenn. States on the trail will be invited to place markers at the monument. The lecture will be free to the public.

HEALTH CULT MEMBER STARVES TO DEATH

Chicagoan Had Fasted for 31 Days at Camp in Colorado.

By the Associated Press.

LYONS, Colo., Aug. 28.—Christ Solburg, 40 years old, a member of the Chicago Health Cult, was found dead on his cot at the cult camp near here today. Coroner A. E. Howe of Boulder County, said that Solburg had starved himself to death.

Howe said that he learned from other members on the health cult that Solburg had fasted for 31 days and had reduced from 150 to 85 pounds. According to the coroner, Solburg, after his prolonged fast, began eating last Sunday, but his body had wasted away to such an extent that he could not recover his health.

"It's a plain case of starvation," Coroner Howe said after announcing that no inquest would be held.

Solburg came to Colorado in midsummer with the group of Chicagoans who announced that they were seeking "truth and health." After a few weeks several of the party returned but there remains in the health camp about 25 persons.

The Rev. H. Arndt, an Ohio minister, is in charge of the group.

Solburg is said to have been employed at the Chicago Art Institute as an artist's model and has relatives living at Anamosa, Iowa. Residents in the locality of the camp complained that the "truth seekers" were taking sunbaths without any clothing. Coroner Howe said he learned that with the exception of one person of the group remaining at the camp, all were partaking now and then of food.

ARTISTIC BUILDING AWARDS

Plans for Contest Discussed by Chamber of Commerce Group.

Plans for recognition of the most artistic apartment or store in outlying districts of the city and of the best commercial structure downtown were discussed yesterday at a meeting of the Better City Appearance Committee of the newly formed City Development Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce.

At the suggestion of Carleton S. Abel, manager of Hotel Statler, a sub-committee was appointed to work out details of the plan. It was tentatively decided to divide the city in three districts and establish suitable awards for each class of building. The committee also decided to conduct a clean-up, paint-up, fix-up week next spring.

POINT WON BY U. S. ON ARMS PUBLICITY

Demand to Have Number and Size Included in Clause Adopted.

A Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

GENEVA, Aug. 28.—Publicity appears to be the only form of control which will be placed on the private manufacture of armaments, judging by developments in the League of Nations commission which is attempting to draft an international treaty on the production of war materials.

The Canadian and U. S. delegates, however, won a slight advance over the dis-hards on the commission which would leave arms and munitions manufacturers entirely free to operate undisturbed. They succeeded, by a narrow majority, in inducing the commission to agree that the number and weight of armaments manufactured should be included in the publicity figures to be broadcast through the League. Heretofore, the only published specifications agreed on was the total value of armaments, which the Americans regarded as completely misleading in view of the fluctuating costs of manufacture in various countries.

By an equally narrow margin the commission also succeeded in linking up state manufacture with private manufacture, thereby preventing France, Czechoslovakia and other countries from concealing their production of war materials. The British delegation suggested that the result of the commission's deliberations be reported to the Council of the League, which convenes next Friday, leaving the council to decide on further procedure.

The commission is presided over by Count von Bernstorff of Germany. Hugh Wilson, United States Minister to Switzerland, and Florpout Moffatt are the United States representatives.

New Frocks Have Fabric Interest

—One of the Important Points of the Fall Mode, in the Women's Dress Shop

$16.75 $25

One of the "surprises" of the new mode is that prints are continuing into the Autumn... small, tweed-like prints on silk or silk-and-wool backgrounds, ideal for travel, business, or street wear. Frocks of feather-light wools are more important this season than ever. And the afternoon mode is one of varied interest... for dull-finished Cantons, lustrous Satins, and rich Transparent Velvets (rayon) are of equal importance! All these are ready now to usher in the new season in the Women's Dress Shop.

G. O. P. SENATORS O-K TARIFF BOARD REORGANIZATION

Committeemen Would Require Hoover to Retain Bi-Partisan Membership However.

6-YEAR TERMS PROVIDED FOR

President's Power to Consider Differences in Competitive Conditions as Well as Costs Is Approved

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Power would be given President Hoover to reorganize the Tariff Commission, but he would be required to keep it bi-partisan under a revision approved by Republican members of the Senate Finance Committee in the House tariff bill. This decision was disclosed in the 485-page text of the document made public today by Chairman Smoot.

The President in his message to the special session recommended that provision be made for reorganization of the tariff body. As now written, the bill provides for a commission of six members, the same as at present, as against seven in the House bill, with terms of six years as against 12 now and seven in the House measure.

The President under the rewritten bill would be empowered to end the term of one or all of the commissioners but in selecting their successors he would be bound by a provision in existing law that not more than three could be of the same political party. The House bill proposed that appointments be made without regard to party affiliation.

Competitive Conditions.
The bill retains a House provision to authorize the President, under the flexible provisions, to consider differences in competitive conditions instead of the cost of production alone, as provided in existing law, in determining rates of duty. The Senate Republicans eliminated from the House bill a provision to make Canadian wheat imported and milled in bond for export pay a duty, when shipped to countries granting American flour preferential tariffs, equal the amount of such preference. Buffalo millers had opposed the provision while Southwestern millers were strong advocates of it.

No changes in the proposed rate schedules tentatively adopted and previously made public were contained in the printed text.

The bill also struck out a House provision to prohibit the refund of 59 per cent of wheat duties on the exportation of flour made from imported wheat. It restored existing language to make such refunds applicable only when wheat imported for re-export was mixed with not less than 20 per cent American wheat.

The question whether a minority report on the bill will be presented to the Senate remains to be decided. The decision has been deferred. Senator Simmons of North Carolina, ranking Democrat on the committee, explained, to give the minority group an opportunity first to examine the majority report.

Democratic Attack.
The preliminary Democratic attack on the measure, meanwhile, is continuing. Congresswoman Mary T. Norton of New Jersey, in a statement issued by the Democratic National Committee emphasizing the woman's interests, contends that it "strikes viciously" at her household and personal expenditures and would have a particularly adverse effect on the $500,000 woman wage earners, "who must keep well dressed in order to keep their jobs."
"Every one of these women's very many of whom are finding it difficult to live now," she says, "will have to pay an increase of from 10 to 15 per cent on their shoes, stockings, dresses, coats, hats, underwear, toilet articles—in fact, on everything that goes to make a woman comfortable."

As for silk, she said this was no longer the exclusive fabric of wealthy women, but working women were using it extensively, too. The industry, she added, already was over-protected and suffering from over-production which the tariff could not cure.

Fine toilet soap is something every woman appreciated, she continued, adding there was no need for the proposed increase of 30 cents on every dollar's worth.
A $10 hat, in her opinion not a luxury, called for a tariff of $2.50, she said. Another article she listed as over-protected was perfume. All women of refinement, wealthy or poor, she said, value French perfumes and it would not be fair to France to increase this duty.

To Wed Trans-Atlantic Sailor.
CHARLESTON, S. C., Aug. 28.—Agatha Gavinski, who came from Germany by steamship for the purpose, is to be married tomorrow to Paul Muller, who crossed the Atlantic alone in an 18-foot sailboat. The Mayor will give the bride away; the German Consul will be best man. Shortly thereafter Paul intends to sail back to Germany in a small boat—alone.

HELD FOR TRYING TO CHANGE BANK FIGURES FOR GAMBLERS

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Lap- twice Sackman, charged with having attempted on Aug. 7 to bribe Harold Harris, 16-year-old Associated Press office boy, to falsify clearing house figures, was held in $1500 bail for the grand jury yesterday in Tombs Court.

Using combinations of numerals taken from the daily clearing house figures as published in the newspapers, gamblers the world over play a policy game, the stakes of which often are large. Sackman said he was acting for a group, so far as offering the bribe.

Nathan Feitington, arrested with Sackman, was held for lack of evidence.

Every Baby Sealskin Trimmed Coat bears a Tag which gives specific instructions as to "How to Care for Your Baby Sealskin Fur Trimming."

(Sonnenfeld's Coat Shop—Third Floor.)

SEE It Demonstrated Thursday at the Store—

How Easily You Can Comb and Iron Out

Baby Sealskin Fur Trimming

IT may seem incredible, but you can iron out the Baby Sealskin fur trimming just as easily as the most delicate piece of lingerie or dress fabric.

Many women are annoyed when the fur trimming on their cloth coat becomes matted due to rain, dampness or rough wear. Baby Sealskin is the only fur that does away with this disadvantage, for in a few minutes, merely by following a few simple directions, it is restored to its original beauty and rich appearance at very little effort and no further cost at all.

We saw this demonstrated to our satisfaction when our buyers were in New York, selecting the new coats for Fall. We determined right then and there to acquaint the women of St. Louis with this marvelous feature. Come to the Coat Department Thursday and see it for yourself. Don't miss it.

SELECTING JURY FOR GASTONIA MURDER TRIAL

Two Men Tentatively Seated After Clash Over Who Is Paying Salaries of Attorneys.

By the Associated Press.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Aug. 28.—A demand that each of the 10 attorneys engaged in the prosecution of 16 members of the National Textile Workers' Union charged with the murder of Police Chief O. F. Aderholt of Gastonia, publicly announce by whom he was employed, was made at the opening of the third day of the trial today by Frank J. Flowers, a defense attorney. The State lawyers arose in turn and each asserted that he was retained either by the City of Gastonia or Gaston County. The State retaliated by demanding the names of employers of the defense counsel. Arthur Garfield Hayes of New York, announced that he was appearing at the instance of the American Civil Liberties Union and was not being paid. Others said they were employed by the International Labor Defense.

Selection of the jury then was started. From a group of more than 100 names, a panel of 12 was called out by acceptance tentatively by both sides of the third talesman of the 200 men summoned to be questioned. S. L. Caldwell, Mecklenburg County farmer, was ordered seated in the jury box. J. C. McCoy, Charlotte, structural steel worker, was the next man seated. He was the fourth talesman questioned.

Talesmen were excused rapidly after the acceptance of the first two tentative jurors both State and defense exercising peremptory challenges to dispose of the next 20.

Zeb Morris Jr., farmer of Matthews, was the third man accepted by both sides. The man accepted by both sides may be challenged later but only with the consent of the Judge.

Questioning of talesmen by both sides dealt extensively with the effect of reading newspaper accounts of the Aderholt shooting and of events preceding and following it. Hearing of defense motions and examination of State's witnesses in private by defense attorneys were the outstanding activities yesterday.

TRYING TO TRACE OVERALLS WORN BY WOMAN'S SLAYER
Officers Checking Up on Stores in Effort to Find Who Purchased Them.

A check of the stock of St. Louis merchants selling coveralls from the same factory lot from which the garments worn by the two men who shot and killed Miss Pauline Duebber and seriously wounded her cousin, August Meyer, on her farm near Femme Osage, St. Charles County, Aug. 22, were a part, was begun today by Sheriff Grothe, assisted by city detectives. The Sheriff brought with him the coveralls, bandanna handkerchiefs and other articles discarded by the fugitives. He will compare them with the merchandise in the various stores, regarding it as probable that the men bought most of their supplies at one place and at one time.

Investigation yesterday of a new clew did not result in any definite development, although it was disclosed that it had to do with the finding Monday of another revolver, a nickel-plated, .38-caliber Iver-Johnson, containing four cartridges and one empty shell. It was found on the wooded ridge overlooking the apple orchard where the shooting occurred, not far from where the blue metal revolver was discovered the day before. All of the weapons and equipment, including a rag and flashlight, used by the men have now been recovered.

The condition of August Meyer has improved to such an extent that his physician announced today that his recovery is almost certain.

Mrs. Joyce Gets $500 a Month.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—James Stanley Joyce, wealthy lumber dealer, was ordered to pay his wife $500 a month temporary alimony today pending hearing of her divorce suit, filed Aug. 8. Joyce is worth $2,500,000, the divorce bill states. Mrs. Joyce asked for $2500 a month temporary alimony. Mr. Joyce's first wife was Peggy Hopkins Joyce.

LASHLY AND BRACKMAN TAKE OATH AS CIRCUIT JUDGES

Several Hundred Attend Ceremonies in Courtroom; Both Make Speeches.

Arthur V. Lashly and Amandus Brackman, appointed judges of the Circuit Court in St. Louis County by Gov. Caulfield, took the oath of office this morning before a crowd of several hundred which included members of the bar.

The oaths were administered by Circuit Judge Nolte in his flower-filled courtroom. Speakers included Judges Nolte and Mulloy, former Judges Wurdeman and Mix, Charles M. Hay, State Senator Ralph and former State Senator A. E. L. Gardner. The new judges then were escorted to their courtrooms by committees of lawyers, Judge Lashly to Division 3 and Judge Brackman to Division 4. Both judges spoke in response. Judge Lashly said, "Circuit Judges can do much to instill into the enemies of society a genuine fear of the law. St. Louis County is handicapped by reason of having only the machinery for prevention and prosecution of crime provided for rural communities, which has many times proved inadequate to deal with crime conditions existing around the borders of every metropolitan city."

Addition of the two new judges, he added, should insure a speedy trial to every litigant in civil cases.

Chile Sends Oranges to U. S. NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Chile appears as a possible competitor of Florida and California for a New York market. A trial shipment of 50 cases of seedless oranges is described by the Chilean Consul-General as having been well received.

TWO ROB CAB DRIVER, THEN HOLD UP STORE

$43 Taken From Druggist,
After Chauffeur's Car
Is Stolen.

Two young men approached a taxicab at Euclid and Maryland avenues at 8:30 o'clock last night and told Maurice Dougherty to drive to 4280 Pershing avenue. When Dougherty explained there is no such number, one of the pair presented a revolver and commanded him to drive ahead. At Newstead and Pershing avenues he robbed him of $1. and took the taxicab.

Then they drove to the Branson Drug Co., 450 Maryland avenue, where Thomas Branson, the proprietor, recognized one as the man who had held him up last June. They took $43 from the cash register and forced Branson to open the safe from which they took $40. The cab, in which they escaped, was later found abandoned.

James L. Tate, changing to glance from a window in his home at 4915 Gladys avenue at 10 o'clock last night, saw a man prowling in a vacant house next door. Seizing his revolver he ran outside shouting "What are you doing there?" The man fled and Tate fired four shots at him.

A man approached Mrs. Anna Bafuno of 4503A South Grand boulevard near her home yesterday afternoon and demanded money. When she replied she had none he attempted to grab her purse. She resisted and the man fled.

Two armed men entered a chain grocery at 4106 Lee avenue at 5 p. m. yesterday, forced Carl Benfer, manager, and Arthur Milton, butcher, to stand against the wall, and rifled two cash drawers, obtaining $45.

Walter May, attendant at a gasoline filling station at 2027 Seventh boulevard, was robbed of $5 by an armed man at 9:10 o'clock last night. The robber joined a second man in a waiting automobile and escaped.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Ferguson of 3863 Washington avenue were robbed of $5 at 10:30 o'clock last night by an armed man, as they were putting their automobile in the garage in the rear of their home.

Police pursued four young men who jumped from an automobile and ran, after it had collided with a car driven by Regdon S. Carr of Belleville at Sarah and Manchester avenues last night. Arrested, the youths admitted the car was the second they had stolen within two days. The car belonged to Harry W. Williams, 4904 Buckingham Court.

James Smith, attendant in a filling station at Grand and Page boulevards, seized a revolver last night when an armed robber entered and demanded money. Another automobile arrived at that time and the robber fled, escaping in a machine in which his companion waited. An armed man last night robbed Charles Voght, attendant in a filling station at Fourteenth street and Chouteau avenue, of $25.

U. S. Plane Crashes in Mexico. By the Associated Press. MEXICO CITY, Aug. 28.—A dispatch from Hermosillo, Sonora, to El Universal, says that an American army plane piloted by R. G. Taylor crashed near Congreccion de Tarcon, Sonora, Monday night.

Taylor jumped to safety with a parachute.

BIDS ON 7 PAVING JOBS UNDER CITY ESTIMATES

Increased Competition Among Contractors Said to Cause Lower Prices.

Low bids totaling $312,002.43 have been received on seven street paving jobs on which the city's own estimates totaled $352,934. The bids ranged from 8 to 26 per cent under the estimates. Increased competition among contractors is credited with cutting prices.

The bids will be considered and contracts awarded at a meeting of the Board of Public Service Tuesday. It is hoped to have work on the two most important projects, involving sections of Kingshighway, completed during November.

The streets to be paved, the type of paving, the low bidder, and the bid, are as follows:

Kingshighway Northwest, between Genevieve avenue and Lillian avenue, Warrenite bitulthic, Bridges Asphalt Co., $106,962.45.
Bircher-Kingshighway, between Kingshighway and Genevieve avenue, Warrenite bitulthic, Bridges Asphalt Co., $143,586.52.

January avenue, between Loughborough and Rhodes avenues, Warrenite bitulthic, Granite Bituminous Co., $28,595.56.

Hoffman avenue, between Tamm avenue and Christy subdivision, vi-brothite concrete, Webb-Boone
Co., $12,215.86.

Allemania street, between Helvetia street and River des Peres, reinforced concrete, William A. Riley Co., $9128.

Baden avenue, between Church road and Frederick street, reinforced concrete, Central Paving
Co., $4260.46.

Ulena avenue, between Bates street and Eller street, asphalt, Central Co., $6953.22.

BUTTERFLY CHANNELING

For Double-Edge
Razors

Probak shaves like a head barber's favorite. Smooth, cool and refreshing—entirely free from smart and burn. Butterfly channeling in secret-processed, dual-tempered steel permits this marvelous new blade to flex without cracking or distorting —and brings the straight-edge principle to your present double-edge razor. Two super-keen, rigid edges hug the guard and whisk through the toughest beard without pull, drag or vibration. You'll like Probak!

GUARANTEE!

Buy a package. Use two blades.
If you don't agree that Probak is the finest double-edge blade ever built, your dealer will refund the full purchase price.

$5,000,000 FIRE IN CHINESE ARSENAL DUE TO EXPLOSION

Blast at Nanking Thought to Have Been Caused by Intense Heat.

By the Associated Press. Aug. 28.—Fire of the munitions depot here, one of the largest in China, was under control this morning, but had resulted in a loss of government arms and ammunition valued at $5,000,000.

The fire was started by a terrific explosion, attributed to the intense summer heat on defective shells. Inhabitants evacuated surrounding districts and martial law was put into effect to prevent looting of their property.

NOLTE REFUSES TO OK $126,314 RELIEF BILLS

Comptroller Holds Aldermen Exceeded Authority on Playgrounds Refund.

Supported by an opinion of the city's Legal Department to the effect that the Board of Aldermen exceeded its authority in passing relief bills for the benefit of property owners who were assessed in connection with the creation of two playgrounds, Comptroller Nolte has refused to authorize the payment of $126,314.85 under the relief bills.

The relief bills authorized reimbursement to 674 individuals of $56,717.70 assessed in connection with a playground bounded by Eleventh, Twelfth, Monroe and Clinton streets, and to 842 individuals of $69,597.15 in connection with a playground bounded by Vista, Norfolk, Tower Grove and Newstead avenues.

City Counselor Muench based his opinion on a clause in Section 28 of Article 4 of the City Charter, which provided that "the Board shall not have power to relieve and exempt any person from the payment of any tax or from any burden imposed by law or to authorize a compromise of any disputed contractual demand for any allowance on account thereof, not provided for in the contract." Although few of the assessments have actually been paid by the property owners, they will stand as liens against the property until payment is made. The individual assessments average less than $100.

A similar relief bill was passed in March, 1928, for the benefit of property owners who had been assessed $102,464 in connection with the McKinley playground and plaza near the McKinley bridge, but this relief bill was not questioned.

Convenient for husbands . . . but how about their wives?

IN thousands of towns throughout the country, this scene is duplicated every day. A parking space or public garage filled with cars used in business, while the other members of their owners' families are marooned at home.

A second car would make their day so much easier and pleasanter. And almost any family can afford a second car by picking out a used car from the stocks of General Motors dealers.

Their sales of new cars are so large; they accept so many cars in trade—often with mileage scarcely touched—that you can find cars of every size and type in their showrooms.

Used cars are low-cost unused transportation

Every day more and more families are discovering that they can afford a second car in this way. The prices are amazingly low.

And a General Motors dealer enables you to enjoy the car you like immediately through the convenient GMAC Plan of purchase.

SECOND LOWEST BIDDER GETS SECTION H OF DES PERES JOB

J. Blackburn of St. Louis is successful with bid of $1,957,175.
The contract for the construction of section H of the River des Peres levee, extending from a point about 100 feet west of the Mississippi river to Gravois avenue, was awarded by the Board of Public Service yesterday to R. J. Blackburn, St. Louis contractor, who bid

$1,957,175. Three sections of the sewer project remain to be contracted for.
Blackburn's bid was second lowest. The board rejected the low bid of $1,672,744 by a Chicago firm, on the recommendation of President Kinsey, who reported that the company's capitalization and experience in large projects raised a doubt as to its ability to fulfill the contract.
Blackburn has done sewer work for the city, but has not participated in the River des Peres work heretofore. Other bids on Section H averaged more than $2,500,000.

LONDON READY TO ABANDON CROYDON MURDER MYSTERY

LONDON, Aug. 28.—Because of lack of evidence, authorities had decided not to bring charges against anyone in the so-called Croydon poisoning cases involving the sudden death of three members of a family, according to London reports today.
Scotland Yard has been working on the case for months. Efforts to obtain a workable criminal theory seem to have been futile. Edmund Creighton Duff, Miss Verry Sidney and Mrs. Violet Sidney, all members of a family living in Croydon, a suburb south of London, have died during the last year and a half under suspicious circumstances and in each case a jury found the death caused by poisoning. Duff and Miss Sidney were found to have been wilfully murdered by a person or persons unknown, but the jury was unable to determine whether the death of Mrs. Sidney, Duff's mother-in-law, was a case of suicide or murder.

The case has been characterized in England as the most baffling murder mystery of modern times.

PLANS FOR BALLOON
RACE SEPT. 28 MADE

No Admission to Be Charged—
Entries to Be Placed Behind Wire Fence.

Arrangements for the Gordon Bennett international balloon race, Sept. 28, were discussed yesterday at a meeting of the Grounds Committee of the Chamber of Commerce Air Board with city officials and Army officers.
Handling of spectators and control of traffic at the starting grounds, 3900 South Broadway, were considered. There will be no admission charge. The balloons will be placed parallel to and behind a wire fence at the southeast edge of the field, so thousands of persons may see the take-off.
The first contestant probably will take off about 4 p. m., according to Maj. Albert Bond Lambert, a member of the Advisory Committee of the race. The work of filling the bags will start at 7 a. m.

Troops from Jefferson Barracks will patrol the grounds, while a detachment from Scott Field will assist in filling the balloons. Police will enforce special traffic rules on streets near the field.
Word was received yesterday that Edouardo Brabley, who will pilot the balloon Argentina for the Argentine Aero Club, will leave Buenos Aires Monday.

GIRL ACCUSER OF PANTAGES RESTING UNDER POLICE GUARD

By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 28.—Eunice Pringle, 17-year-old dancer on whose accusations Alexander T. Pantages, wealthy theater magnate, was charged with assault, was resting under guard of police women today, on orders of District Attorney Byron Fitts.
Fitts said the girl would be guarded carefully and allowed to rest until Pantages' trial, which will begin Sept. 23. Miss Pringle collapsed several times while describing at Pantages' preliminary hearing recently the alleged attack upon her, and Fitts said she was on the verge of a nervous breakdown.
Defense counsel announced that Max Steuer, a New York lawyer, would arrive here by airplane late this week to head Pantages' counsel during the preparation of the defense of the trial.

DRY AGENTS CATCH PAIR
UNLOADING BEER FROM AUTO

Arrest Them, Owner of Car and Woman Operating Resort
On East Side.
Prohibition agents last night raided a resort at 427 Collinsville avenue, East St. Louis, operated by Belle Moore, and arrested her and two men who drove up to the place in an automobile and began to unload cases of beer. They gave their names as Edward Miller and

I. L. Burke. License plates on the automobile had been issued to J. C. McClaren, 425 Converse avenue, and McClaren, also was arrested. More beer was found at his home. Others arrested were Charles Johnson, 26 South Fourth street, and Marie Jones, 426 Brady street. A warrant for the arrest of Logan Trout, 125 South Main street, was obtained when beer was found there.

BREAK AVERTED ON PLANS FOR MARKETING GRAIN

Agreement on Scheme for Huge Northwest Corporation Reached and Details Are Being Worked Out.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—Farm leaders representing the Federal Farm Board and the Northwest Farmers' Co-operatives hoped today to perfect organization plans for the gigantic grain marketing corporation agreed on at yesterday's closed conference.

A subcommittee of three sat up most of last night drafting plans to be submitted today. The committee consisted of C. E. Hough of Salina, Kan., national president of the Farmer, Union, chairman; S.
J. Collington, Stanhope, Ia., of the National Farmers' Elevator Grain Co., a co-operative, and John Manly, Enid, Ok., head of the Southwest wheat pool.

Clouds of disagreement which overhung the conference Monday representing the co-operatives, and the four representatives of the Federal Farm Board rolled away at yesterday's meeting and when the doors to the conference room were opened late in the afternoon announcement was made that an agreement had been reached.

For a time it had appeared the impasse might not be surmounted.
The Federal Farm Board men urged formation of a corporation which would have blotted out the identities of the individual cooperatives, but co-operative leaders balked and insisted on retaining the individual characters of the smaller organizations.

It was agreed that the proposed corporation should be a farmer-owned central marketing and financing organization to sell grain gathered from farmers by individual co-operatives, which should share in the commissions. Application will be made to organize as a co-operative, but if that is impossible a corporation will be formed.

The subcommittee drafting plans was expected to provide membership requirements liberal enough to include as many kinds of cooperatives as possible and at the same time meet with the approval of the Farm Board, which will hold the purse strings of financial relief.

Alexander Legge, chairman of the Farm Board, was unofficially informed that farmers of the Northwest were in dire financial distress and needed immediate aid.
He sent a telegram to H. Paul Bestor, chairman of the Federal Farm Loan Board in Washington, urging that "all applications of farmers' co-operative associations in northwest for intermediate credit loans (to permit farmers to hold wheat in bonded warehouses within local territory to relieve terminal congestion and strengthen prices) be acted upon as rapidly as consistent under policies now applied by your board to such matters."

Farmer Killed by Train
By the Associated Press.
CARTHAGE, Mo., Aug. 28.—
Henry V. Kasper, 53-year-old farmer living near here, was killed yesterday while walking along the Frisco right-of-way. He was deaf and apparently did not hear the approach of a passenger train.

26 BOY SCOUTS BACK FROM WORLD MEETING

Fourteen Others, Met in New York by Their Parents, to Return Later.

The members of 26 St. Louis households listened late last night to tales of travel and adventure of the 26 Boy Scouts of the Spirit of St. Louis' troop who returned home late yesterday afternoon after a trip of more than two months in which they toured Europe and attended the International Boy Scouts' Jamboree at Birkenhead, England.

The scouts literally burst from the Baltimore & Ohio train that brought them to Union Station and each proudly carried baggage bearing labels from France, Germany, Switzerland, Holland, Belgium and England. Fourteen of the troop were met by their parents in New York when they arrived on the S. S. Arabie Monday and they will not arrive home until later.

What with their parents waiting for them in the midway, it was difficult to get an expression from any of the scouts concerning their journey, but, judging from the smiles on their faces, there can be no doubt that they had a "swell trip," as one of them put it.

"Jamboree the Best Part." It remained for Scout Commissioner H. D. McBride, who with Scoutmaster L. M. Hall accompanied the boys, to tell something of the trip.

"The best part of the trip, of course," McBride said, "was the jamboree at Birkenhead. It brought the boys in contact with 50,000 fellow scouts from 42 different countries and it was amazing what fast friends they made."

"In every foreign group there were several who could speak English, so the difference in languages was really no difficulty. To show how they got along—one day I walked into our mess tent at lunch time to find several of our boys lunching with scouts from Sweden, Poland, Turkey and Switzerland and they were exchanging tales of their native lands."

"Apparently the most interesting pastime of the boys was trading equipment with the foreign scouts. Some of the boys have bags full of foreign scout apparel. Arabian turbans, Turkish fez and Scotch kilts being prized most highly."

A Flood of Letters. If the boys keep their promises to correspond with boys they met at the jamboree they are in for a busy year of letter writing, as some of them have lists of more than 200 names. At the same time the postman will be kept busy delivering foreign mail at their homes, for many of the European scouts made the same promise.

McBride said he was frankly astonished at the way the boys deported themselves. Since their average age is less than 15, he said he looked forward to some trying moments, but he said they knew when to have their "rough-house" and when to be dignified.

At the jamboree, from July 31 to Aug. 13, the scouts merely camped in the style peculiar to their home country and there was no really competitive work. McBride explained. No final choice for the best camp at the jamboree was made, but the Spirit of St. Louis camp was chosen as one of the three best of the American contingent which in turn was said to be among the three best at the jamboree.

Others on Trip. Other scout executives besides McBride and Hall, who accompanied the boys were: L. L. Hotchkiss, field executive; D. S. Leland, scoutmaster; George Burbach, assistant scoutmaster; Nathan Burghelm, scoutmaster, and Dr. F. M. Staley.

Dr. Staley did not arrive yesterday with 14-year-old Reginald Bonham, whom he brought from England to educate. The youth was detained by immigration authorities because the doctor failed to obtain guardianship papers before sailing. After a hearing the authorities ruled the boy could stay for a year.

Six Found Beheaded in River. By the Associated Press.

MOSCOW, Aug. 28.—Reports from Harbin, Manchuria, state that the bodies of six beheaded persons have been found in the Sungari River. Some of them, it is stated, were Soviet citizens. The Moscow foreign office has requested the German Embassy to ask its consular officials in Harbin to investigate the affair.

HIGH STRUNG WINS FIRST RACE AS 3-YEAR-OLD

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SARATOGA RACE TRACK, N. Y., Aug. 28.—Marshall Field's High Strung came back to the races this afternoon and, running for the first time as a 3-year-old, captured the third event here, a six-furlong sprint, in 1:10 4-5, only two-fifths of a second slower than the track record.

The colt went out early last winter with a leg injury and had not faced the barrier until this time.
But his form as a 2-year-old caused him to have 120 pounds upset in the race. He was a winner in the first time, played a wonderful match game. Her drives, kicks and putts were good, but her wooden shoes were spectacular.

Donie Bush Resigns As Pirates' Manager; Gives No Explanation

By the Associated Press.
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 28.—Donie Bush, manager of the Pittsburgh National League Baseball Club, today tendered his resignation to President Barney Dreyfuss. The owner of the club accepted the resignation without comment.

The resignation took effect immediately, and Dreyfuss named Jewel
Ens, a coach, as acting manager.

Asked if Bush gave any reason for resigning, Dreyfuss said: "He resigned. That's all I can tell you."

Rumors of an impending shakeup in the Pittsburgh team, following the recent disastrous eastern trip when the Pirates dropped 12 out of 17 games, have circulated in baseball circles here, for several weeks. The team returned from the East yesterday and Bush met Dreyfuss this morning. After the meeting Dreyfuss announced the resignation.

Bush came to the Pirates three years ago from Indianapolis where he piloted the American Association team. He replaced Bill Mc-Kechnie here. In 1927 Bush carried the Pirates to a National League pennant, but lost the world's title to the Yankees in four straight games. During his three seasons here the Pirates finished in the money each season.

"There is nothing more to give out than that I have resigned and President Dreyfuss has accepted the resignation," said Bush.
"That's all there is to be told. I simply decided to quit. There is no ill feeling between President Dreyfuss and myself, or between any of the players and myself."

He added that "it was unfortunate that we made such a poor showing on the final Eastern trip, but it was just the fortunes of war."
Dreyfuss said later that he liked and respected Bush as a hard and faithful worker and he wished Bush success wherever he casts his baseball lot in future.

HUDKINS CANNOT BOX IN CALIFORNIA UNTIL CIVIL SUIT IS SETTLED

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 28.—Ace
Hudkins, Nebraska boxer, was notified by the State Athletic Commission today that he would not be permitted to appear in California rings until the $13,000 suit he had filed against the governing body has been settled in San Francisco civil courts. St. Masters, manager of an auditorium which had booked a bout between Hudkins and Joe Anderson for September 10, was informed of the action.

The suit was an attempt by Hud-kins to recover his purse in a bout with Charlie Belanger, lost here in San Francisco recently. The purse was confiscated by the Commission as a fine for the alleged failure of Hudkins to put forth his best efforts. In his complaint the boxer denied he had failed to box at his best.

Hudkins was training for the Anderson bout and said he would continue, believing it might be allowed to go on as scheduled.

BROWNS AND CARDS HAVE ANOTHER OPEN DATE ON SCHEDULES

TODAY was another day of hilarity for the Browns and Cardinals as far as major-league activities were concerned. While the Browns were resting, the Cardinals were playing an exhibition game at Leavenworth, Pa.

The Browns got back into action tomorrow, opening a series with the Detroit Tigers at Sportsman's Park. Friday will be another off-day for them.
The Browns and Tigers will resume the series Saturday.

The Cardinals will play an exhibition game with their minor brothers, the Red Wings at Rochester, N. Y., and will end their shakedown collecting tour of the bushes at Scottsdale, Pa. Friday. Saturday they will stop off at Cincinnati for one game with the Reds and then journey to Chicago to meet the Cubs Sunday and two games on Labor day.

Only games scheduled.

Allison-Van Ryn Team, Holders of Two Titles, Defeated in U. S. Meet

By the Associated Press.

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 28.—Wilmer Allison and Johnny Van Ryn, the British and Davis Cup doubles champions, were knocked out of the U. S. doubles championship play here this afternoon by Berkeley Bell and Lewis N. White, Both of Austin, Texas. In a five-set quarterfinal match on the Longwood Turf Courts. The scores were 6-4, 4-6, 6-4, 4-6, 8-6.

Allison lost his service five times during the five sets, netted once or more in almost every game and aided Bell and White greatly by returning wild smashes at every critical point during the match.

White's play was exceptionally steady throughout and Bell's acrobatic shots kept the Texans in the running many times when they appeared headed for certain defeat.

The inter-collegiate champion made at least eight perfect returns while lying prostrate on the courts.
This setback to the champions, top-seeded in the national play, was throughout as did Van Ryn, but the latter's almost perfect all-court game was not good enough to offset Allison's weak play.

Lott and Doeg Advance.
George M. Lott Jr. of Chicago and John H. Doeg of Santa Monica, Cal., gained a semifinal bracket by defeating F. X. Shields of New York and Donald Strachan of Philadelphia in straight sets, 12-10, 6-4, 6-2.

Lott and Doeg nosed their opponents out of the first set by getting the first service break on Shields' delivery in the twenty-first game.

Prevailing to this Shields and Strachan reached set point four times only to have Lott and Doeg square matters by winning their services.

Strachan was broken through in the second and third sets.

SENATORS BUY TWO ROOKIES FROM MINORS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Infielder "Stuffy" Stewart, whom the Nationals have on option at Birmingham and who was injured some time ago, has been doing a little scouting for the Washington club while recuperating from his injury and two players yesterday were purchased on his recommendation.

COURSE WHITNEY PAR LIKELY TO RILE 3 TO 5 FAVORITE FOR HOPEFUL STAKE

By Glenn S. Hutchinson

With the exception of two play, the women's Municipal Chess tournament being held last week on the Forest Park grounds, the quarter-finals of the 1929 2-year-old race will be played Sunday. It is probable that the same player will be made to schedule the final match on Monday afternoon. As announced by the Finance Committee, a $100,000 stake will be charged. Upon the completion of the only match scheduled for Sunday, the play, that of A. Belfuss and Miss Shine from Sublette, vs. Frances Johnson and Gertrude Degert, of Carondelet, the doubles match will be in the semifinals. The feature match yesterday was between Irene Borne, of St. Louis, and Ella Marshall, of O'Fallon. Miss Borne started off strong and in the first set easily on her own terms, allowing Miss Borne to become a match progressed. As Borne made a spectacular comeback, winning the match 1-4, 4-6, 6-4, 6-2.

The doubles match between Ella Marshall and Billie Peer, Kingshighway, vs. Ruth Christine, O'Fallon, and Miss Shine, of Sublette, was a close contest. After winning the first set, 6-3, Miss Shine and Miss Shine let down in the second set, but were able to be rudely awakened by their opponents gaining the set, 6-4. Being hard-pressed, the score, Miss Belfuss and Miss Shine quickly fell into their original effective stride and in the decisive set by the score 6-3.

Yesterday's Results

Singles.

Third round—Irene Borne, St. Louis, defeated Ella Marshall, O'Fallon, 1-4, 4-6, 6-4, 6-2; Ruth Christine, O'Fallon, vs. Ruth Christine, O'Fallon, 6-4, 1-2 (not completed on account of darkness).

Doubles.

First round—A. Belfuss and A. Shine, Sublette, vs. Frances Johnson and Gertrude Degert, Carondelet, 6-3, 6-4, 6-2; Ella Marshall and Billie Peer, Kingshighway, vs. Ruth Christine, O'Fallon, 6-3, 6-4, 6-2; Ella Marshall and Billie Peer, Kingshighway, vs. Ruth Christine, O'Fallon, 6-3, 6-4, 6-2.

TURBOW AWARDED $3000 TOURNAMENT OF YPO BASEBALL LEAGUE

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 27.—The Y.P.O. baseball league, which is in the Union Federation of Professional Baseball League, yesterday defeated Pittsburgh 10 to 6, in only game played in the tournament. The defeat was the first for the Y.P.O. since it was organized. The tournament is a business season of the league. It was decided to hold the tournament at Pittsburgh and annual mid-winter meeting of the officials at Cincinnati. The Y.P.O. of Cincinnati was president and Ed Springer of St. Louis was secretary-treasurer.

SULLIVAN DEFEATS TEXAS WELTERWEIGHT

PAUL, Minn., Aug. 28.—Sullivan, St. Paul welterweight, defeated Jimmy Owens, Fort Worth, Tex., in a mauling 10-round bout last night in the opinion of newspaper men. Owens was knocked out near the end of the eighth round. Sullivan was unable to deliver the finishing punch. Sullivan claimed that Owens had injured his left hand in the first round.

VIERKOETTER IS FAVORED TO WIN MARATHON SWIM

By the Associated Press.

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 28.—A chilling wind from the north has caused postponement of the fourth annual Wrigley marathon swim for 24 hours and perhaps more.

The swim, scheduled for today, was postponed until tomorrow when a cold wind sent the temperature of the water in Lake Ontario down to 54 degrees yesterday, four degrees below the required minimum of 58 degrees.

Officials of the swim were hopeful that the weather would change for the better but official forecasts were not favorable. "North-easterly winds; fair and cool," said the Weather Bureau. It will take a warm and southerly wind to boost the temperature in the Lake to the required minimum.

Meantime 275 swimmers, nerves on edge, waited anxiously for the long wait to start. More than 400 sent in their entries for the marathon but only 275 showed up for physical examination. Of these, only one, John Greer, 52 years old, was turned down.

Vierkoetter is favorite. Popular opinion has installed Ernest Vierkoetter of Germany, winner of the 1927 event, as the outstanding favorite. The big German baker led the field last year until the cold water forced him to withdraw four miles from the finish. The powerful German is confident he can outswim the field and outpace the lake this time.

Second choice is George Young who won the Catalina Island swim three years ago. Mendell Burditt of Toronto, figures more serious in the colder the water becomes. Strong and robust he may outlast the field should the temperature of the water be around the minimum on race day.

Georges Michel, of France, who won most of the prize money last year by being the last to succumb to the frigid waters of the lake, will not compete this year. Among the lesser favorites are such swimmers as Norman Ross, Chicago; Clarence Ross of New York; Eddie Keating and Byron Summers.

Prize money of $35,000 will be divided among the leaders.

FOUR DAYS REMAIN FOR FANS TO ENTER ALL-AMERICA CONTEST

FONSECA'S FINE RECORD MAKES HIM ELIGIBLE FOR RUTH TEAM

By Damon Kerby

Add the name Lewis Albert Fonseca to the list of veterans who are beating back this year to prominent positions in the baseball spotlight.

It may be recalled that Fonseca was slated to step aside at Cleveland this season in favor of a younger and more active player. Johnny Hodapp had first call at first base. But when news was counted at the training base in New Orleans it was discovered that Hodapp was holding out for more money. Roger Peckenpaugh sent Fonseca to first base and there he has been ever since.

Fonseca's name was mentioned in connection with the Babe Ruth All-American team contest the other day. In shooting the praises of Fox, Gehrig, Blue and other first basemen, don't overlook Fonseca of Cleveland, said one who had dug into the records.

Record shows surprise. It was therefore in order to look at the Cleveland player's record at first base. And two or three startling surprises developed.

He has handled more chances at first base than any other player in the American League excepting Lou Gehrig.

He has participated in more double plays than any other first baseman in the American League.

He is credited with more assists than any other first baseman in the American League.

He has a fielding average only three points under that of Joe Judge, who is leading the American League in fielding.

To these who have watched Fonseca play, without paying particular attention to his record, the figures are indeed a surprise, because on the field Fonseca does not impress the spectator as being "special" at all. In fact, at times he looks slow.

No mention of his hitting has been made, for it is known to all that he is a poor hitter. In the Fox v. American League batting. Yesterday he had an average of .371. He had made 10 more hits than Fox, but had been credited with 22 more times at bat.

Gets Long Swats.

More than a fair share of his hits have been for extra bases. Yesterday's figures he had a total of 33 two-base hits, 12 three-baggers and five home runs. Fourteen stolen bases were listed to his credit.

In addition to these figures, Fonseca holds a unique record in baseball. He is of Portuguese descent—the only Portuguese player in the game. He was a member of the famous all-nations infield of Cincinnati in 1915, composed of Daubert, representing Germany, on first; Fonseca, Portugal, at second; Babe Pinelli, Italy, at third; and Jim Caveney, Irish, at shortstop.

Cleveland's fans are happy over Fonseca's great year. On his record this season, it is no wonder that the good citizens of Cleveland feel like killing the fatted calf for their Portuguese son.

Those who have not mailed in their all-star line-ups are reminded that the contest has only a few days to run—closing Saturday night at midnight. The rule of the contest should be studied carefully before mailing the selections to the contest editor, care of the Post-Dispatch.

MARTIN LEADS IN PILFERS. "Pepper" Martin, sent to Houston by the Cardinals, is the leading base stealer in the Texas League with 27 thefts to his credit.

Rules Governing Babe Ruth's All-America Team Contest

THE contest is open to every one, except employees of the Post-Dispatch and their families.

Entries will close Aug. 31 at midnight and letters bearing postmark up to that time will be considered eligible.

The contestant naming the same players in the same position and batting order as Babe Ruth wins the first prize; but in event no contestant duplicates Ruth's picks, the one nearest will be considered the winner.

In addition to naming the players to conform to those chosen by Ruth, contestants must arrange them in the same batting order as Babe Ruth. The Babe has agreed to place his choices in the order in which he thinks they should go to the plate.

(This feature is new. Previously it was sufficient to name the men according to position only.)

An explanatory letter of no more than 250 words must accompany the selections and will be passed upon by the judges. This is as important as selecting the players. Babe himself will write an explanation of his choices. In event of tie, the excellence of the composition would determine the winner. (Write on one side of the paper only and make your selections on separate sheet.)

Kaiser to Fight On Hatzfeld Card

Johnny "Peewee" Kaiser will appear as a headliner on an outdoor boxing card at the Battery arena on Thursday night, Sept. 4, according to an announcement today from Hans Bernstein, acting as matchmaker for the Walter J. Hatzfeld American League. Post during the absence of Jack Tippett. Bernstein stated that he plans to send Kaiser against either Bobby Allen of Chicago, or Nick Broglie of West Frankfort, Ill. in a 10-round contest. Allen will be given the preference if he accepts the terms offered.

Bernstein stated that he is trying to match Dave Knost and Tom Pivac, local heavyweights, for a city championship bout to furnish a secondary 10-round feature of the Battery card and that he expects to arrange a return match between Joe Ghnoully and Paul Steadman, local featherweights, to provide a third star bout.

Knost and Pivac fought once during their amateur days, the decision going to Pivac, who held the Western District heavyweight title at that time. Pivac entered the professional glove game shortly after the match and Knost supplanted him as the District champion, subsequently battling his way to the National A. A. U. Junior heavyweight title, which he held when he deserted the amateur ranks last year.

Angelo Defeats Peppe

LEIPERVILLE, Pa., Aug. 25.—Billy Angelo, Leiperville, a welterweight, won a 10-round decision over Johnny Peppe, Philadelphia, here last night. Tex Hamer, former professional football player with the Frankford Yellowjackets, knocked out Pat Patterson, Philadelphia, in the second round. They are heavyweights.

Billy Jones Scores Kayo ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 25.—Billy Jones, 165, of Pittsburgh, knocked out Johnny Haystack, 170, Binghamton, in the second round of a scheduled 10-round bout here last night. Manuel Quintero, 141, of Cuba, won from Al Trainor, 146½, Philadelphia, in 10 rounds.

BOWLING NOTES

The Great Eastern Bowling League was organized at a meeting last night. Officers elected are: Al Borman, president; J. L. May, secretary, and A. Krieblich, treasurer. The league will bowl Thursday nights, at 6:15 p. m.

The Bowling League of St. Louis Lodge No. 8, B. P. O. E., will open its season tonight at 7 o'clock on the Schaeffer alley. The league has increased to 12 teams. Officers are Charles K. Summersby, president; M. W. Tuttle, vice president; and Fred Sunkel, secretary and treasurer.

ST. LOUIS CHESS CHAMPION WINS IN SECOND ROUND

J. A. Anderson, St. Louis chess champion, employed a fast-moving offense to defeat E. J. Roesch, a fellow-townsman in 16 moves yesterday afternoon in the second round of the Western Chess Masters' tournament at the Downtown Y. M. C. A. The elapsed time for the match was 75 minutes.

N. T. Whitaker of Philadelphia won his second straight match by defeating J. Winter of Detroit in 34 moves, requiring 2 hours and 46 minutes of play. Whitaker meets V. Sourin of Washington, D. C. today.

R. S. Scrivener of Memphis took but 22 moves to win from G. H. Perrine of Central, Ill., in an hour and 50 minutes. Scrivener is matched against Anderson in the third round.

S. D. Factor of Chicago and H. Steiner of New York came to a draw after 34 moves, which required 2 hours and 45 minutes of play. The pairings for the third round today follow:

Scrivener vs. Anderson.
Sourin vs. Whitaker.
H. Halbhohn vs. T. Jenkins.
H. Steiner vs. E. J. Roesch.
Factor draws a bye.
Referee—C. J. West.

FAVORITE LOSES IN $10,000 HARNESS RACE

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Aug. 25.—Three of the events in the grand circuit at the New York State fair here yesterday were won in straight heats. Better Win took the 3-year-old race, breaking the track record for his age and gait, setting a new mark for the grand circuit this year for 3-year-old pacing stallions and coming within one-quarter of a second of the world race record for the same conditions set by Frisco Gene nearly 10 years ago.

Etta Volo had nothing but warm-up heats winning the 2:12 trot and Hollywood Harrod was not pushed unduly to win the 2:20 trot.

The big upset of the day came in the Empire State Stake for $10,000 purse, Hollywood Pat, the favorite winning the first heat and then fading far back. Two swift and steady stretch drives by Full-worth gave him the final two heats, though his half brother, Gayl Worthy, forced him to beat 2:03 on each occasion.

PETROLLE WILL MEET KING TUT, SEPT. 12

DETROIT, Aug. 25.—Billy Petrolle, Fargo, N. D. lightweight, and King Tut of Minneapolis will fight a 10-round bout, originally scheduled for tomorrow night here, Sept. 12, at Navin Field. The postponement was necessary because of an injury to Tut's hand. Jack "Kid" Berg, Jewish lightweight from England, will fight a 10-round bout on the same card. His opponent has not been selected.

WRAY'S COLUMN

A New Champion. DICK SCHIKAT now is a world wrestling champion (in Pennsylvania and New York), because he defeated Hans Steinke, New York's previously approved title holder, and Jimmy London.

Another case of the tail wagging the dog. Two states are trying to wag the other 46. It is not to be understood, however, that the 46 Indiana Sonnenberg for the title. He probably has only ONE vote—Massachusetts is pulling for him.

The point is that neither man is an acceptable champion on his performance to date. Of the two, Schikat seems to be a real wrestler. But he will have to watch his step or some of his companions will queer him.

Old Stuff.

A COUNTS of the London-Schikat match describe how London "became enraged," how he struck or cuffed Schikat, trying to anger him.

London is an athlete brought up in the wrestling game. He is a cool, alert, able man. He has professional poise and the idea of his exhibiting rage in a match indicates more of the old exhibition showmanship. No experienced athlete loses his temper easily, when battling. It's a tip off to his opponent.

Striking opponents during wrestling matches is a sure way to brand a bout as exhibition. Unless wrestling is degenerating into a logging-camp rough-and-tumble, slapping, cuffing and punching are indefensible. They are in the same category of illegality as the employment of wrestling tactics in boxing would be.

Schikat may be a real champion and everyone hopes he is. We also hope he gets away from the tactics of the carnival show and free-for-all fights.

If the public wants rough-and-tumble rows O. K. But why call it wrestling and blacken that already offends sports' eye?

In the meantime, the best way out of the championship woods would be to arrange a match between Sonnenberg and Schikat. That would end Gus in about 10 minutes.

The New "Riding" School.

OUR American "galleries" are showing a decidedly baseball complex at various championship events. In baseball the spectators "roast" everybody, even the home team, at times. But always there is the jeer and the rib. We call the ump a "robber." We yell "take him out" when the pitcher falters. We know the proper time to shout "Big Bum" at the fielder who boots one, and maybe we reserve the right to tell the manager just where he's like.

That was and is expected of baseball crowds. But, until recently, all was ceremonious at tennis, golf and polo functions. There was etiquette of the gallery as well as of the playing field. Decorum had to be observed. Otherwise the players and the spectators would give the glassy eye and the chilly shoulder to the offender.

But lately, more and more, we read that baseball manners have invaded the links and the tennis courts as well. Saturday, for example, we noted that the crowd at Forest Hills put on its jockey outfit and rode Helen

Errors Enable Waynesboro to Beat Cardinals

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WAYNESBORO, Pa., Aug. 25.—Although Bill Hallahan fanned eight batters and allowed but four hits, Hafey's miff of a fly ball and Hallahan's wild throw to center field trying to catch a runner, enabled Waynesboro to score two runs in the ninth inning to beat the Cardinals, 2 to 1, here yesterday.

Dotterer, shortstop, who went south with the Cardinals last spring, reached second when Hafey dropped his fly. Wimer singled to score him and when Hallahan cut off the throw to the plate and overthrew second trying to cut down the runner, Wimer also scored with the winning tally.

High was hit by a pitched ball in the seventh and advanced to third on Butler's single. He scored as Dotterer was tossing out Jonnard.

Fred Frankhouse is due to pitch against Lewistown, Pa., today. This is 12 miles from his home town of Port-Royal.

Score by innings:
Waynesboro.....0 0 0 0 0 0 0 2—2 4 2

Batteries: Cardinals—Hallahan and Jonnard; Waynesboro—Lang and Younger.

ST. LOUISAN TO FIGHT

ON SEDALIA PROGRAM

SEDALIA, Mo., Aug. 28.—The rift between the Lewis and Flehwick

fractions of the Illinois mine workers promises to result in some drastic action if a reconciliation is not effected at an early date.

Conditions have become acute

in some of the local unions of Franklin County, according to reliable reports from these organizations, and the rulings of executives who are in sympathy with the international president, being resuscinded and overruled by the officers supporting the State organization, are sure to bring about some serious upheavals unless remedies are applied soon to the over-widening differences.

Reports indicate that a large majority of workers are with Lewis, but the State officials have quite a following.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—America's addiction to ice cream is increasing annually and last year

348,045,000 gallons were consumed in this country. The Bureau of Agricultural Economics, in making public the statistics, estimated the per capita ice cream consumption in 1928 at 2.90 gallons. Ten years ago, in 1918, enough ice cream was sold to have supplied each inhabitant with 2.49 gallons, while in 1910 the consumption was only one-third what it was last year.

URGES PREPAREDNESS AGAINST, NOT FOR WAR

Assistant Secretary Hurley Sends Message to Veterans of Foreign Wars.

By the Associated Press.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 28.—A message of preparedness against war instead of for it was sent by Patrick J. Hurley, Assistant Secretary of War, for presentation today to the thirtieth annual encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

"The idea of maintaining the peace of national defense is twofold," the Hurley message said. "One is to prevent war in so far as possible by making available to the chief executive a force sufficiently strong to deter other nations from any hostile, ill-considered, unreasonable inclination to adopt an aggressive, overbearing and unjust attitude toward us; the other is to diminish the costs of war in men and money by making any wars into which we may be forced a defense of our national existence both short and successful."

"At the very foundation of this national defense policy is the assumption that all our citizens agree that it is unjust and dishonest to expect one man to die for the republic while another is profiting by war. In time of national emergency it is wrong to place the whole responsibility on the young men who make up our armed forces. There can be no successful protracted military effort without well-balanced, efficient, industrial preparedness. All of our citizens must share the responsibility and burdens of war. The profiteer must be eliminated."

"Our measure of preparedness must be reasonable. Like insurance, it must be commensurate with that which we have to protect; but it must not assume such proportions as will give others occasion to consider it a menace to their freedom and national existence. Above all it must be completely adequate preparedness against war, not for war."

In connection with the message, a message was prepared for action by the convention offering the co-operation of the organization to President Hoover in maintenance of a complete defense and urging a thorough survey of defense with a view to replacing obsolete equipment with the latest products of military science.

LUMBER MEN PROTEST AGAINST FIREPROOF FEDERAL BUILDINGS

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Plans to make fireproof the larger buildings included in the Government's $400,000,000 public building program has resulted in a protest from lumber interests of the country. Treasury officials said in making the announcement that in preparing plans for the larger buildings use of lumber had been limited because of the fire hazards and fireproof materials substituted for it. In the smaller buildings, it was said, the same amount of lumber is being used as formerly.

The protests against the decreased use of lumber in the larger structures were said to have come from all parts of the country, indicating to officials that a campaign was being conducted to induce a change of plans. The protests alleged the Government was discriminating against lumber but this was denied by officials, who said that it was merely a question of making the new postoffices and public buildings fireproof.

Chicago—We Will Up 115 Hours. CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—If "the first 100 hours are the hardest," the "Chicago-We Will" endurance plane has made the most difficult stage of its attempt to establish a new record for sustained flight. At 4:31 o'clock this morning it had completed 115 hours in the air. The flyers, C. E. Steele and Russell Moorman, made their twenty-sixth refueling contact last night.

One Sulky Stopped-Up Drain Ruins It!

You're proud of your bathroom. Almost all modern women—those who make a fine art of the fine points of living—are careful to have beautiful baths.

People today are so quick to notice details—so quick to judge. That's why the seeming trifles, the fine points of modern housekeeping are so important! For instance: Behind bathtubs walls of glistening tile, are pipes and drains. You never see them—yet they are so important. And now it's very simple to care for them. It is the same common-sense method, really, that plumbers have used for years! A small can of Desolve kept always ready and pipes and drains will be always clear-running and sweet.

A little water in the pipe, shake it Desolve from the blue and black cans, and the whole job is done in a jiffy. And, please note this: Desolve will never hurt the beautiful porcelain enamel you're so proud of. It will never scratch the linoleum and polish of costly bathroom fixtures. Always, it is completely safe and easy to use.

You'll find it simpler, more practical to give every drain in the house a cleaning when you use it. Let housewives make Desolve a regular twice-a-month habit. Your grocery, drug, hardware or department store carries Desolve. You may get it in larger sizes from your plumber. Order some today. The Chamberlains Company, Pittsburgh, Pa.

YOUTH SHOT DURING FIGHT IN TAKING PART FOR FATHER

Recent and Produce Employee Had Quicker Day Before; Two Accused.

Dominick Liavoli, 21 years old, 1224 North Fourteenth street, was shot in the left side last night by Earl Raines, 35, of 1310 Dodder street, in a renewal of a quarrel between Raines and Liavoli's father, Charles. He is at City Hospital. Raines and the older Liavoli, both employed on Commission Row, quarreled Monday, and when Raines reported for work yesterday he found Liavoli and two sons on hand. The sons threatened him, he says, and he went to the home of a relative and got a revolver. Raines and Liavoli Jr. were arrested.

No Difficulty About Financing Utilities Without Franchises

Companies' Contrary Claim Is "Bunk" Says Former Michigan Governor—"Don't Be Foolish" He Advises St. Louis

Detroit Gas Company Was Able To Refund Old Bond Issue After Its Grant Had Expired

What utility corporation needs in order to borrow money, is public good will, Alexander J. Groesbeck tells Post-Dispatch. If it wants franchise it probably has some stock selling scheme in view.

(The following article is the third of a series reporting the successful operation of home rule of utilities in Detroit. The city adopted a policy of granting no more franchises several years ago. Instead, only day to day permits were given for the use of streets or other public property. The city controls the rates and regulates the service. The private corporations operating the utilities, with the exception of the street car service which is city-owned, have no difficulty in financing themselves. The arrangement has worked out to the satisfaction of both public and companies.)

BY PAUL Y. ANDERSON

A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch

DETROIT, Aug. 28.—The principal argument of the St. Louis Public Service Co., in persistently seeking a new franchise from the city, has been that it will be unable to obtain capital for necessary extensions and betterments of its system unless it has a new franchise—although its present franchise still has several years to run. Because Detroit has been so successful in working out satisfactory solutions of its transit problems and in handling its public utilities generally, the Post-Dispatch correspondent took occasion here to interview a number of men—some of them very wealthy and all of them very prominent in large affairs—on the point raised by the company in St. Louis. It was pointed out, of course, that the company's problem does not involve the financing of future rapid transit facilities, since the commission appointed by Mayor Miller to prepare a rapid transit plan has not even started to work on it, and there is no assurance that rapid transit facilities will be operated by the present company when and where they are constructed.

All of those interviewed gave the opinion that the company's contention is not well founded. They agreed that financing would be easier if the company had a new franchise. Others declared that, with proper procedure on the company's part, a new franchise or the lack of one would not cut much ice one way or the other. All, with the exception of one utility magnate, were positive that it could be done without a franchise, and he thought it would be possible within limits.

Financing Without Franchises. The fact is, as several of those pointed out, that all four of the privately owned utilities in Detroit are successfully financing themselves without franchises, and have been doing so for several years. Their capital requirements, the extensions and additions, more-over, have been particularly heavy, because of the tremendous rate at which the city has grown in recent years. Nevertheless, the correspondent found that they have been exceptionally prompt in furnishing new facilities, the record of the Detroit Edison (light and power) Co. in this respect being truly remarkable.

The Detroit Motorbus Co., which operates nearly 400 busses and carries more than 45,000,000 passengers a year, never had a franchise, but there never has been the slightest question about its ability to finance itself, although it is in direct competition with a city-owned railway and bus system.

The Detroit City Gas Co., whose franchise expired in 1925, and which has operated under day-to-day permits ever since, with the city regulating its rates and service, refunded an old bond issue within a few months after the expiration of its franchise, and is successfully financing itself in the face of the moral certainty that no franchise will ever be granted to it.

Likewise, the franchisees of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. and the Detroit Edison Co. expired years ago, and have not been renewed, due to the fixed policy of this city to retain home rule by granting no franchises to public utilities. It is true that both claim to have legal rights under certain ancient grants, but the city does not recognize the validity of these claims, and the companies willingly accept regulation by the city on the basis of day-to-day agreements.

When the correspondent asked a Detroit banker whether those companies experience any difficulty in financing themselves under present conditions, he laughed. "I wish all our money could be loaned to people like them," he said.

"Bologna," says Ex-Governor. Few public men in Michigan command more respect and confidence than Alexander J. Groesbeck, Governor of the State from 1921 to 1927. His administration was noteworthy for a business reorganization of the State Government, the construction of the Michigan system of highways, and for numerous other reforms and improvements. Incidentally, he was the Governor who appointed James Couzens to the United States Senate, to fill an unexpired term.

AN ILLUSTRATION OF GROESBECK'S FINE INDEPENDENCE

A GOVERNOR of Michigan, Alexander J. Groesbeck, enjoyed a widespread reputation for blunt and forthright speaking, and he upheld it in spectacular manner on an historic occasion in 1924. The Republican National Convention was meeting in Cleveland. The renomination of President Coolidge being assured, the principal business was the choice of a nominee for Vice-President. About 1 a. m. on the day on which the nomination was to be made, National Chairman William M. Butler, of Massachusetts, summoned to his rooms in the Cleveland Hotel the spokesmen for the delegations from 15 Middle Western States, to "confer" on the choice of a nominee. It so happened that the present writer was one of three newspaper men who were admitted to the "conference." After some polite talk, the suave Butler finally informed the delegates, one of whom was Governor Groesbeck, that he, Butler, had just talked by telephone with the White House, and that the President would be highly gratified if the convention should select Senator Borah as his running mate. He was proceeding with further amenities, when the Michigan Governor unceremoniously interrupted him.

"If I understand you correctly, President Coolidge has decided that Borah is to be the nominee," he said.

"Well, gentlemen," faltered Butler, "I suppose if you want to put it that way, that is just about correct."

"Then I don't know what the hell we are doing here, and I'm going to bed," snapped Groesbeck. And he walked out. (As it turned out later in the day, both the President and the chairman of the convention were mistaken. Borah telephoned a flat refusal to accept the nomination under any circumstances; the convention tendered it to Frank C. Lowden who declined it, and finally the delegates stamped for Gen. Charles G. Dawes.)

tration, blessed with the modest amount of sense that God gave, granting a franchise to a public service company nowadays, and thus losing control of its own streets.

"Don't Be Foolish, St. Louis."

In the case of St. Louis, the company has practically a monopoly on the great business of local transportation. All it needs is permission to operate and to charge a reasonable fare. It can have both those things under a franchise permit, and is certain to have them as long as it treats the public with anything like decency. If it has them it can get all the capital it needs. If it wants a franchise, he chances are that it will not bring shame to the tribe of Aaron," Judge David said. "Through under the laws of this State you have almost no claims, I will sign the order."

By the Associated Press. BELLINGHAM, Wash., Aug. 28.—Traveling at the rate of 95 miles an hour, an airplane piloted by R. C. Graham seeded 160 acres of land on Lummi Island yesterday in an hour and 40 minutes.

Graham was assisted by W. A. Granger, owner of the land, who dropped the seed from a sack in a six-inch stream through a door in the cockpit, using about 800 pounds of seed. The plane flew about 500 feet above the ground.

JEW'S MARRIAGE TO DIVORCEE ANNULLED UNDER ANCIENT LAW

Chicago Judge Cites Leviticus and Signs Order "To Uphold Tribe of Aaron."

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—From the book of Leviticus, twenty-first chapter, fourteenth verse, Judge Joseph B. David yesterday took authority to annul the marriage of Louis Leon, 61 years old.

Leon told the court he was a descendant of Aaron, brother of Moses and the first high priest. As such, he told the court, he is governed by the special laws of his faith concerning priests, though by profession he is a tailor.

Through his marriage to Mrs. Rose Davis, 50, a widow and a divorced woman, he lost his title, was barred from worship and forfeited the privilege of burial in hallowed ground.

It was not until after his marriage last February, he said, that he learned she had been twice married before, her first husband dying, her second having been divorced. Thus, he told Judge David, he had twice violated the Mosaic law as laid down in Leviticus: "A widow or a divorced woman . . . These shall he not take; but he shall take a virgin of his own people to wife."

Leon was beaten to court by his wife, who sought separate maintenance. Leon's attorney countered with suit for divorce, basing his petition solely on the ancient Hebrew law. He produced witnesses and records to substantiate Leon's claims.

Judge David delayed decision until he had time to consult several prominent rabbis. They agreed that under Jewish law Leon had forfeited his rights of worship.

"I will not bring shame to the tribe of Aaron," Judge David said. "Through under the laws of this State you have almost no claims, I will sign the order."

AMERICAN HAVING $9,000,000 CLAIM IN CUBA, ARRESTED

Joseph E. Barlow Charged With Grand Larceny in Connection With Property Deal in 1928.

OBTAINS FREEDOM ON $500 BOND

He Had Been Held Incommunicado in a Cell in the Fortress of Puelo Principe.

By the Associated Press. HAVANA, Aug. 28.—Joseph E. Barlow, 67 years old, American resident of Havana who has made claim for $9,000,000 against the Cuban Government was released this afternoon on $500 bond. At the same time it was disclosed that the charge on which he was arrested yesterday was grand larceny. He had been held incommunicado in a cell at the fortress of Puelo Principe.

An extra-official report said that the criminal charge against Barlow dated back to 1928, when a Cuban woman Vicente Garcia, charged Barlow with having sold her a piece of property to which he could not deliver clear title. The court order for his arrest is said to be based on this charge and on the counts of falsehood and with being a fugitive from justice.

No official report on the case has been made to the Cuban Government. Barlow's controversies with the Cuban Government are of long standing, growing out of claims for Havana property worth about $9,000,000, he contends he purchased from the heirs of the original beneficiaries of the land conveyed under a Spanish royal grant about four centuries ago.

The extent of the land was said to have been defined in court as "As far as a dog's bark can be heard." The Cuban Government has never recognized the claim and charged Barlow paid only $55 for the property for which he sought $9,000,000.

Barlow's Claims Justified, Senator Borah Declares.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Indignation over the arrest in Cuba of Joseph E. Barlow, American citizen, was expressed by Chairman Borah of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

"I think Barlow has a just claim," he said, "and has been very badly treated." The state department has received no word from the American Embassy in Havana regarding the arrest of Barlow and officials declined to disclose the status of negotiations, that have been in progress between the two governments over the case for a number of years.

FRISCO DIVIDES OPERATING CONTROL IN TWO DISTRICTS

D. J. Stephenson Assigned to St. Louis, Springfield and Tulsa Division.

By the Associated Press. SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Aug. 28.—Division of operating control of the Frisco lines into two districts, each under direction of an assistant general manager, was announced today by F. H. Shaffer, general manager of the St. Louis-San Francisco Railway Co. The change, brought about by increased problems of operation, becomes effective Sept. 1.

The first district, comprising the Frisco's northern, southern and river divisions and the Kansas City, Del Rio and Birmingham terminals will be under jurisdiction of M. M. Sisson, assistant general manager.

The second district, including the eastern, central, southwestern and western divisions, and the St. Louis-Springfield and Tulsa terminals, will be assigned to D. J. Stephenson, who has been promoted from assistant to the general manager to assistant general manager.

KELLOGG FOR PUBLIC EDUCATION ON PEACE

Former Secretary of State Says His Treaty Has Already Shown Influence.

By the Associated Press. ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 28.—Reduction of land and naval armaments, extension of arbitration for settlement of international controversies and an educated public opinion were advocated last night by Frank B. Kellogg, former Secretary of State, as supplements to his anti-war treaty to make more effective the abolition of international conflicts.

Speaking over radio station WCCO, Kellogg declared the treaty, which has been signed or adhered to by 62 nations of the world, has brought about a powerful influence for the maintenance of peace and expressed the hope that in time the nations would accept the pact as the universal standard of conduct of nations. He predicted that all nations would ratify the treaty.

"There may be sporadic conflicts between nations," Kellogg said. "It is perhaps too much to expect that perpetual peace will come to the world immediately. But, if the treaty has a large restraining influence on nations, it is not too much to hope that great world conflicts like the last war will be avoided and that in time the people of the world will be so imbued with the idea of peace that the declarations of this treaty will become universally accepted as the standard of conduct of nations."

Kellogg termed the treaty a "high moral and solemn declaration," to which he would suggest no change, but said many things can be done to strengthen and make it more effective in the abolition of international conflicts. "First," he said, "there should be an educated public opinion. It was the public opinion of the world which made the treaty possible. It will be the public opinion of the world in support of its high principles which will make it effective."

"Second," the extension of arbitration and conciliation for the adjustment of international controversies. Every step which can be taken to broaden and increase the influence for arbitration and judicial settlement is in the interest of peace.

"It is for this reason that I heartily endorse the movement for the United States to join the World Court. It will be greatly to the advantage of the United States to have an independent world tribunal of distinguished lawyers to which can be referred legal questions arising between the United States and other governments."

"Third," as a natural result of this world movement for peace, there should be a reduction in naval and land armaments. I think nothing threatens the peace of the world more than competition in building great navies and maintaining large armies. Leading naval and military nations can and should agree on a reduction to a point only necessary for defense and which will make aggressive warfare impossible."

Kellogg denied the anti-war pact was "impractical idealism," declaring that "in all ages cynics have scoffed at reforms which have brought us the higher civilization of the twentieth century."

ARABS REPORTED TO BE MARCHING ON JERUSALEM

Beersheba Tribesmen Said to Be Gathering and Arming by Thousands for Hebron Clash.

KING OF HEDJAZ HOLDS CONTROL

British Must Crush Uprisings of Moslems in Palestine, Syria and Trans-Jordan.

By the Associated Press. JERUSALEM, Aug. 28.—Moslem uprisings throughout Palestine, Syria and Trans-Jordan, with attendant horrors of fire and sword, threatened today unless British power in the Middle East could crush quickly the rising spirit of unrest among fanatical tribesmen.

The situation already today seemed to have passed far beyond the original dispute between Arabs and Jews over use of the Walling Wall, and observers generally here looked to the Saudi, mighty King of the Hedjaz, whose ultimate attitude could turn the scales one way or the other.

These fixed the dead at 143 and wounded at 428 in the last five days' fighting between Jews and Moslem Arabs divided as follows: Killed, 46 Moslems, 4 Christians, 93 Jews. Wounded, 118 Moslems, 39 Christians, 269 Jews. It was noted an accurate check of casualties was impossible.

Bedouins Cross Frontier. Upheaval among the Trans-Jordanian Arabs growing out of the Palestine fighting has become so violent the Government has found it necessary to close the Eastern Judean frontier against possible invasion by sympathetic nomads, but armed Bedouins crossed the Jordan despite guards placed on the bridges.

The Beersheba tribes were said here to be arming and gathering by the thousands for the northward march which gave rise to fear of a clash with British soldiery at Hebron, scene Saturday of a massacre in which Arabs literally cut to pieces Jewish men, women and children. Refugees arriving from Trans-Jordan said the situation there was becoming worse.

British troops have occupied most of the Jewish colonies in Southern Palestine, but there are said to be grave threats of danger in the north, where the colonies are undefended against a rumored Arab advance from Trans-Jordan. Although the Jews thus far have been made the object of the Arab attacks the situation has become such that a few fanatical "holy men" might easily turn the Fellahs—Moslem peasants—against the Christians and British rulers. Some idea of the widespread Moslem sympathy with the Palestine Arabs could be gleaned from the demonstration yesterday of 20,000 Moslems in the Jewish quarter of Damascus. Troops finally dispersed the tribesmen.

Seeks to Save Children. Half a year seems to have suffered from considerable fighting, with many deaths in the Sephardic quarter near the railway station. The American Consul here asked the British authorities for immediate help to prevent any trouble in the children's village there where many refugee children from

An Unsolved Riddle.

It is certainly an unsolved riddle why a group of men, such as those controlling our surface electric lines, will undergo so much worry and with (as they tell us) no decent appreciation or reward, from the thankless mob, of their unselfish and heroic efforts to serve said mob in the matter of transportation. What is the answer to the riddle? Why do they continue thus this arduous and thankless task and why have they continued to do it, from generation to generation, personal ownership or corporation ownership, from the time of the horse-drawn omnibus to the present day? How simple a remedy is in their hands. Sell the outfit, at its real value, as they themselves expect to have sold to them a pair of shoes, or a hat, from the merchants with whom they deal, to the municipality, which should own, as is the case in nearly every continental European city, all public utilities. Why not do this and unload the fearful burden? If all help to carry it, it will not be a heavy load. Will they answer honestly? No. And so this riddle continues unsolved and the mob ought to extend to these overworked and undervalued gentlemen its thanks for the courtesies extended and the care and trouble taken on its account.

But a mob is composed of people, and Mr. Lincoln once said, "You can fool some of the people all of the time, you can fool all of the people some of the time, but you cannot fool all of the people all of the time." And maybe that is the reason that some of this unappreciated mob believe it is being fooled as regards the constant walling and moaning of these benevolent gentlemen concerning their unappreciated efforts.

The fact of the matter is that the surface lines never have rendered the service that should have been rendered for the revenue received. They followed the lead of the steam railroads in this respect which, after having driven water competition out of the field, reduced their service to a minimum, and now, after bus competition has driven them practically out of the suburban field, shed crocodile tears about it, as the surface electric lines are doing now over unregulated jitney competition. Why don't they fight in the right way by giving service instead of withdrawing vehicle after vehicle and expecting the mob to say yea and amen?

Why spend so much money on gimmick things, such as that fool paper they are publishing, of which one may doubt whether its statements are anywhere as true as are those of the Post-Dispatch which it openly accuses of unprincipled lying? Also on those many other signs which they plaster on their cars and which people may read but generally laugh over. Why pretend meekness enough to ask for suggestions from the public and then never adopt any of them no matter how rational they may have been? Those at the helm of the corporation may think themselves allwise and that they know it all, but they apparently do not believe in Mr. Lincoln's uttered truism; and so there are those doubting Thomases who will persist in saying: "I have me doots."

"Speaking of Mornings."

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
I THINK I voice the sentiment of the reading public when I thank you for the exquisite little gem in prose which appeared in the Friday, Aug. 16, issue of the Post-Dispatch, entitled, "Speaking of Mornings."

Reading it, the sorrows of years fell away. I was a child again, standing on a hilltop, watching the "white fleecy clouds" and drinking the "superbly compounded tonic." Then I read it all over again, many times.

There has not been anything finer written since the Taylor's "skyline" poem. As I read it again I read all the beautiful souls are not yet dead, thank God. "All is right with the world."

If the writer is not yet nippy, he should be, after this "zippy, nippy" poem in prose.

Sober Nevada.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
I HAVE just read M. T. January's letter, in which he said, in effect, "Enforcement of the prohibition laws will be at the expense of American morality." A terrifying thought, if true.

I have just returned to St. Louis, after a pleasant fortnight spent in Camp Clark with the National Guard. I spent one Sunday evening in Nevada and Radio Springs. Recalling vividly the sobriety of Sunday-evening Nevada, I can't restrain a little chuckle at Mr. January's inference that America's morals are getting bad.

Mr. J.'s memory is faulty. On any Sunday evening of 19 or 12 years ago there were scores of drunken men and boys on the streets of this city; now there are next to none. If his fears for our morals are based on observation, surely he hasn't been looking about him in his own home city.

"HARD REALITIES."

Appropos his forthcoming visit to the United States in October, Premier MacDonald says the preliminary naval armament discussions have reduced the subject to "hard realities."

That is all they could have done, and it is important to have so far reduced this difficult matter. Mr. Coolidge's naval disarmament conference at Geneva in 1927 failed because it was not preceded by any such preparatory work. The delegates exhausted themselves and one another's patience debating the minutiae of disarmament, with the result that when they got to the "hard realities" the conference deadlocked. Of course the hard reality in this matter is control of the seas. The British have exercised that privilege ever since they defeated the Spanish Armada. In the recent World War they reserved the right to search the ships of every nation, including our own. Their practice of intercepting everything we sent to the Central Powers, including mails, brought us to the verge of war with them. Britannia truly ruled the waves. There was no sea law for her.

Will Britain consent to join with America in the observance of a law which she has for long flouted simply because she had the power to do so? That is the hard reality before Premier MacDonald and President Hoover. It is the touchstone of that will to peace which has brought both countries to the present hopeful expectation. Ambassador Davies foresees that there will be some difficulty in making the terms of any disarmament agreement understandable to laymen, from which he fears that instead of entire sympathy with what is done there is a danger that the usual fears will be aroused through misunderstanding. That is a peril to disarmament, but it is one that can be minimized by the British. They have only to say that Britain is willing to join with us in guaranteeing the freedom of the seas. Britain has never said that she will do that, and so far as the world knows she is thinking of disarmament in the terms of the centuries through which she has controlled the seas. To gain her consent to abdicate from that high estate is the task of Premier MacDonald. It is a task beside which Mr. Hoover's necessity to win public sentiment in America for disarmament is by comparison slight.

LADY HAY.

As the Zeppelin completes its round-the-world flight, we lift our glass to the woman described by Commander Eckener as the "bravest passenger I ever had." We refer, of course, to Lady Drummond Hay, who has been welcomed to participate in every major flight of the Graf Zeppelin. Lady Hay proved her mettle on the first Friedrichshafen-to-Lakehurst flight of the big airship when a storm disabled its stabilizer fin. While men passengers gave themselves over to near-panic, she was as cool and serene as a Mayfair hostess in her drawing room. On subsequent voyages she has radiated her confidence in Eckener's airmanship and her dispatches from the Zeppelin, full of joie de vivre, mark her as a true lover of adventure. To Lady Hay!

MCGAULEY AND THE POLICE.

That is a strange case, the gangster's confession that "Big Mac" McGauley, a friendless crook, killed the Overland banker, and that Sylvester Baldwin, the roadhouse proprietor, who has been indicted for the crime, is innocent. It reads like a bit from the "Little Caesar" fiction.

Not the least interesting phase of the case is the part played by the St. Louis Detective Department. The McGauley theory originated in this way: A police "stool pigeon" in the jail reported that another prisoner had remarked he knew a certain young fellow in a certain block in North St. Louis who was "right for a bank murder."

From this locality clue, detectives deduced that a gangster of the name of Lawrence Ahrens was the young fellow and brought him in. Good work. Chief of Detectives Kaiser and some others sweated Ahrens. They did not know what bank murder they were trying to find out about. In fact, they had an idea it might be an Indianapolis case. But they made Ahrens believe they knew all about some crime in which he had been involved, and presently he confessed that it was the Overland case, that McGauley did the killing, and that Baldwin wasn't there and had nothing to do with the job. That was better than good work. It was perfect.

If the Detective Department can do that well, it ought to be able to find out whether the confession is true or false. The county prosecutor says it is fiction. McGauley, just sentenced to life imprisonment for robbery in Detroit, says there is nothing to it and offers to come to St. Louis County and face the witnesses. Sheriff Lill of St. Louis County, who at first accepted the confession, now abandons the McGauley theory and stands with the Prosecutor. Ahrens has declined to repeat his confession in a deposition for use in the trial of Baldwin and refused to answer the Prosecutor's question, "How much were you paid for making the confession?"

Chief Kaiser says it is a county case and he is through with it, but does not care to say whether he believes the confession. But that does not meet the department's obligations in the matter. If the confession is true, the man who is about to go to trial for his life is innocent. If it is false, it is part of a "frameup" to save that man from trial and convict an innocent man, which would do credit to the movies, and the Detective Department has been worked by the "framers." The department which obtained the confession should find out which is the true explanation.

BEAUTY'S BILL.

The poet looked upon her as A lovely apparition sent To be a moment's ornament

but the statistician now has the floor, and he speaks a calculating jargon. He tells us that the American woman last year consumed 4000 tons of powder, 2000 millions of lipstick, and he prattles in pretty quantitative of the cleansing creams, skin lotions, range and perfumes with which milady made her orisons at the shrine of beauty.

There were 60,000,000 of her and her sisters and the bill was $390,000,000, which is somewhat more, or slightly less, than the United States Steel Co. paid Andrew Carnegie at the baptismal ceremony of Big Business.

This budget is fairly popping with financial counterpoint. It happens to be identical with the national cocktail account, R. V. (Before Volstead) and exceeds by what is known as a wide margin the value of Vermont's maple syrup output, plus Connecticut's nutmeg crop. Missouri's corn crop contribution to the national wealth is relatively reduced to the widow's mite. The entire increment of Kansas—wheat, sunflower seed and Bill White's literary rakeoff—looks like the operating expenses of an almshouse compared with the gorgeous squandering of American dame and damsel.

There are doleful spirits among us who will lament this colossal tribute to vanity while the gallant of soul will cheer the women on in their pursuit of beauty. Every man is entitled to his opinion on this question, but the prudent mariner will keep it to himself.

PRESERVE FOREST PARK!

Park Commissioner Pape wants to build a concrete stadium in Forest Park to cost $250,000 and to seat 50,000 persons. What a brilliant idea that is!

A few months ago an attempted invasion was made of Forest Park by the Board of Education. The board tried to purchase a tract of land at the southeast corner of the park for a high school. A city-wide protest was made against the proposal, and Mr. Pape turned it down on the ground that it violated the purpose of the park.

Now he is fathering a project that is infinitely worse. A huge concrete stadium would annihilate park values. Besides the large section of land it would require, approaches to it would have to be built to accommodate that throng of 50,000 which Mr. Pape envisions. A herd of elephants would be far less destructive of park beauty.

Mr. Pape evidently thinks of a park as a kind of carnival or fairgrounds. His stadium, we presume, would be used for large sporting events, such as championship baseball games, prize fights, rodeos, circuses and possibly flagpole-sitting contests. To make it complete, it should be encircled by a cordon of hot dog stands, filling stations and parking lots.

We have always labored under the impression that Forest Park was founded to provide a haven of natural beauty for city dwellers—a place for flowers, grass, trees. The city is full of possible sites for stadia, but there is no other place like Forest Park. Preserve Forest Park!

IN THE INTEREST OF DECENCY.

Preston E. Thomas, warden of the Ohio State penitentiary, who has been making a study of Missouri's prison for guidance of Gov. Caulfield and the State Survey Commission, will recommend construction of a new cell block to relieve overcrowded conditions. The new wing will adjoin B and C halls, which now comprise the only modern cell building in the penitentiary, and it would conform to them in the matter of sanitation and sunlight. It would be a prison, not a dungeon.

We trust one of the monuments of the Caulfield administration will be the remodeling of the penitentiary, not to pamper the men, but to provide them with the fundamental needs and decencies of human existence.

IN WHICH WE LEARNED NOTHING.

The late C. Orrick Bishop, who has just died at 56, was the last survivor of the famous Folk regime which gave the country the most thrilling of all the boogie melodramas. Not that the boogie of St. Louis was greater than in some other cities, but the expose was more picturesque. The bribe givers and the bribe takers fled in so many ways at once, some of them going to points as far away as Guadalajara and Paris, that the St. Louis story became a classic. Had aviation come before that, Dr. Eckener would have found some of our boodlers in the remote fastnesses of Siberia. In those heydays of the sort of reporting in which Lincoln Steffens specialized, the hotel lobbies of St. Louis were the rendezvous of magazine writers, newspaper correspondents and writers of books. The literature that resulted from this dark chapter in St. Louis remains an amazing exhibit in the libraries.

Judge Bishop was one of Mr. Folk's assistants, as was Andrew C. Maroney, who died about a year ago. With these men aiding Mr. Folk, the Circuit Attorney's office in St. Louis achieved a brilliance in public service which it has never duplicated. It was an old-fashioned idea around that powerful office, one that is happily being revived under the able hands of the present prosecutor, Judge Franklin Miller.

The scandals in which Judge Bishop was one of the prosecutors resulted from franchise grabbing. Some of the cities have done away with franchises, a constant source of corruption. St. Louis is one of the old-fashioned cities that has never learned anything even now from her own rich experience. The franchise is still fashionable here, and still another gang of pirates will be before the Board of Aldermen next month seeking to grab one.

So we learned nothing.

DR. HAYES AND THE WEATHER.

It is to be regretted that Dr. Montrose W. Hayes, in charge of the local weather bureau since 1910, is to leave at a moment when aviation has given such vital importance to the work of the St. Louis station.

Dr. Hayes was quick to realize the relation of the weather service to aviation, and he established some years ago a branch station at Lambert Field. The flight of the Graf Zeppelin from Los Angeles illustrated the value of weather service to air travel in the Mississippi Valley. It is a region which, as Dr. Hayes has found, is fully as peculiar as was Bret Harte's Heathen Chinee. From long experience in the field Dr. Hayes has been able to foresee at his sources most of the phenomena displayed by Mississippi Valley weather. Since some of these are far from playful, it is important for aviation to know what is coming. A bad sky in this part of the world, as the airman have good reason to know, is no fun. It was flying a mail plane through all and sundry in the Valley that laid the foundation for Col. Lindbergh's picturesque career. He went over the side with his parachute pretty regularly. There are areas in some of these central states where under certain conditions the weather ferments the same as fruit juices. It is supposed to explain the psychology of Kansas. In a region where it is necessary to lay a large boulder on the haycock the people swarm politically and religiously the same as bees. It was not because he did not have the money to buy socks that "Socksless Jerry" Simpson went barelegged. Dr. Hayes has made charts showing why it was. It was because Jerry lived at a point where too many isotherms, or lines of the same temperature, crossed.

Nevertheless, as chief of the river flood division of the United States Weather Bureau Dr. Hayes will enjoy a promotion. He has earned it.

"WHOA!"

Count Keyserling Appraises America

Philosopher finds this country a cultural mixture, in which every town has a spirit of its own; in Missouri he sees the only white American of peasant-like qualities; charm of St. Louis is its peculiar gaiety; in New Orleans cooking is an art; Chicago is an uncanny city; New York is nation's window on Europe.

Count Hermann Keyserling in the Atlantic Monthly.

MY lecture tour brought me to practically all parts of the United States. Everywhere it was not only my chief but my only concern to get into touch with the genius loci of the place I visited; for all the success of my lecturing—I mean all the success I care for; that is, my succeeding in giving vital impulses—depended on this contact. When I started on my tour, I naturally expected to come across that uniformity everybody talks of. But to my surprise I found that, in spite of the short time that has elapsed since the foundation of most towns, and in spite of the mixed and nomadic character of a considerable percentage of their inhabitants, each of them has a distinctly individual atmosphere; the uniformity is all of the surface.

First of all, America seems to be subdivided even now into large provinces of a comparatively unified character, provinces out of which there would undoubtedly have grown, in earlier days and under different conditions, separate cultures. Within these provinces almost every town has a spirit of its own, so that while traveling I constantly had in mind the dawn of European civilization, when the "autonic nomads" just began to settle down around centers such as Cologne, Worms, Nurnberg, Paris, Carcassonne.

Missouri represents a borderland between the Middle West and the South. But this general description misses the central point. The Missourian is foremost a Missourian—which does not only mean, as the popular saying will have it, that he wants to see things before he believes in it, that he is suspicious and close-fisted to a certain extent. He is essentially rooted in the Missourian soil; he is the one white American I have met of peasant-like qualities.

But Missouri is not only one of the most prosperous, but also one of the most beautiful States of the Union; in the fall, its scenery must be of an entrancing charm. Accordingly the psychic atmosphere of Missouri cities is even today one of harmony, which makes one think of France as opposed to Germany. To its peculiar gaiety St. Louis owes its singular attractive power. England's great and very original charm is also that of a dying culture. There is little likelihood that it will survive even for a century; all the less so as it represents an artificial civilization from the point of view of the earth.

California is so young that it should be impossible, one would think, to foretell anything of its future. At present the population to an extraordinary degree shows signs of a hysterical temperament; and this can only mean, since the climate in itself is excellent, that the present inhabitants are to a considerable extent not yet adapted to their surroundings.

San Francisco is, of course, a thing in itself. Its atmosphere represents a delightful blend of the Far West and the Far East; it is the most attractive international seaport I know.

Los Angeles, as it presents itself today, has the most unreal atmosphere I ever inhaled in my life. It is surely for the purpose of redemption that Hollywood was established just there; according to the mathematical law that the multiplication of two negative quantities results in a positive one, the frankly avowed, which is unreal of the film city alone can give a reality to what is essentially phantasmagoric. Los Angeles is the most weirdly unreal city I know, because its psychic atmosphere is chiefly constituted of the emanations of the most unreal, the most ghostlike, type in the world—the retired American.

And now to New Orleans. Nowhere did the absolute superiority of real culture strike me so forcibly as there. New Orleans is the one place in America where cooking is considered an art—and I thoroughly agree with Mr. Langdon Mitchell when he says that bad cooking and the manner in which people put up with it mean a gigantic blot in the way leading to a possible American culture.

And now we are ready to face Chicago, that most uncanny city in the world. If ever there was a "thing in itself," Chicago is one. It is not American—it is just Chicago. But, on the other hand, if it goes on spreading as it has with as much intelligence directed energy, may some day swallow up the whole of the United States. The atmosphere of the city is not pleasing. The quality of efficiency is German in spirit, so is a certain impression of unreality that its results produce. It resembles a city of the year 3000 A. D. as anticipated by motion pictures made in Germany. There is something phantasmagoric even in the mass slaughter of the stockyards. One feels that, if Hell does exist, such mechanized operating with the mystery of death would be an impossibility there and would surely be judged as an abomination. In accordance with this, there is something unreal about the Chicagoan type of man; he, too, would appear more natural in a motion picture than as a being of flesh and blood.

I hope Chicago will not absorb the whole of America—this would inevitably lead, eternally hence, to a revolution.

And now to New York! It is America's clearing house. Surely it harbors more foreigners than natives. Surely there is no unified atmosphere at all. Surely, life is feverish there! This typical quality of every business center of the West Street world, enhanced by the truly horrible climate of New York. The climate is not in the least stimulating; it is just unsteady, oscillating between one extreme and the other: it is electric and damp, relaxing and bracing, at the same time.

But, whatever New York's drawbacks may be, it means to America exactly what St. Petersburg used to mean to Russia, and Vienna to the Near East; it is America's window opening on Europe. Here American and European influences meet.

Yes, America is at bottom a new land of budding localisms very much as Europe was at the end of the migration of the peoples. I could only give sketches of a very few of these localisms, but they will suffice, I think, to draw the attention of my readers to this very essential aspect of the American scene, which new each of them may follow up according to his own judgment.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

IT is always worth while to be in the city when the United States Senate convenes after a long recess or adjournment.

A rare spirit of fellowship prevails at such times. The floor has the appearance of a club room until the first thump of the gavel. Senators rove here, there and everywhere shaking hands with each other, slipping backs and cracking jokes. Republican is familiar with Democrat and Democrat with Republican. No aisle separates those of different political beliefs on such occasions.

The few minutes before 12 o'clock Aug. 19 were face wreathed in smiles. Senators were back to Washington after the summer recess to take up the tariff bill. Hotter days are ahead—trying days—days that will test the patience of each sorely taxed.

But just then the future was not thought of. At the moment the Senator from Utah was more interested in whether his guest the Senator from Tennessee had achieved his brief vacation than in how he felt on the proposed increase in the sugar tariff.

SENATOR PAT HARRISON of Mississippi was surrounded by three or four of his colleagues at his desk on the Democratic side of the aisle. The lanky and popular Southerner sat deep in his chair (as he does at all times) and from time to time unrestrained laughter would float up from the group to the gallery.

Senator Borah of Idaho joined the group for a few moments. Listened and smiled and with his face wreathed in smiles Senator Wagner of New York came up and became so interested that he drew up a chair and sat down.

Vice President Curtis arrived and immediately began shaking hands with everyone on the floor. From time to time he would look around to see if he had missed anyone, then finding he had he would go in quest of them. He shook the hand of two Senators twice in his eagerness to greet all. And each arose as he proffered his hand. Senator Tom Heflin of Alabama was the only one who called him Charlie.

SENATOR THOMAS of Idaho sought out Senator Borah and the two exchanged greetings with the arm of each about the other. Senator Smoot of Utah gonged Senator McKellar of Tennessee in the ribs after a remark made by the latter.

Senator Heflin called his favorite pug-shook hands with him and asked about some one. Senator Swanson of Virginia stopped by the spot where a man was testing the cooling system in the chamber and asked several questions.

Then the Senate was called to order. The session lasted barely two minutes, and after the vote to adjourn had been taken the Senators resumed their familiarity.

Two women and three men were ushered into the chamber and to the desk of Senator McKellar. He called all of his colleagues who were nearby and introduced them. Then he took his guests on a sight-seeing tour of the Senate chamber. He showed them the desk that Daniel Webster occupied, took them to the Vice President's dais and insisted that each of the women sit in the Vice President's chair.

New York

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.

ONE rarely hears the term "old maid" in New York. It has become a slightly opprobrious epithet. Ladies who passed the middle thirties without marriage are involuntarily relegated to spinsterhood. But not any more.

Shanghai now looks upon unmarried women as "bachelorettes." And they are not out of the fashion. The bachelorette is a thing of the past. The beauty expert, and she is in the minute in manner and dress, is a thing of the past. The bachelorette is a thing of the past.

Most bachelorettes are college graduates and have not married because they are more interested in a career. This does not mean they are haters of men. In fact they are squired about with the same attention often bestowed on fresh young debutantes.

There are very few dinner parties without a sprinkling of bachelorettes. They may have touches of gray in their hair, but they do not smoke a cigarette or imbibe a cocktail like novices. They discuss marriage freely and are not embarrassed by their state of single blessedness. They give the impression of leading the carefree life many dream about but few attain. They have their beaux, mostly understanding, and they are delighted to be in the company that realize sentimentality is impossible. They are only hope. And serve!

Bachelor girls do not "bachelorette." As a rule they team up with other girls determined on commercial or professional careers. They are rare good fellows and honest. One of the most hilarious penny ante poker games is held weekly in a bachelor girl's apartment. It is "For Men Only."

Rejected suitors. She goes to the theater or to the club that night, arrives home in time to serve sandwiches and get to bed, leaving her guests to play until early morning. Independent, the bachelorette does not boast of her independence. She has, like her bachelor brother, come a "good fellow."

SAYS OLDER WOMEN SPEND MOST FOR BEAUTY CULT

New Yorker Tells Cosmetics Convention Why Industry Sixth in U. S.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—It is the flapper but the elderly woman that has made the beauty business the sixth leading industry in the United States, Mrs. Ruth D. Miller of New York yesterday told the annual convention of the National Association of Cosmetics and Hair Artists.

"Women under 20 years, go in for beauty a la carte, go in extravagantly for fadish make-up and hair-cups, but the larger group is the one that spends the most for beauty culture."

At the convention, Mrs. Miller said that the beauty business is the sixth leading industry in the United States, with a value of $1,000,000,000 a year.

New York Day by Day

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, Aug. 28. — "Old New York" is a term which has become a slightly opprobrious epithet. Ladies who passed the middle thirties without marriage were once upon a time voluntarily or involuntarily relegated to spinsterhood. But not any more.

Shanghai now looks upon its unmarried women as "bachelors." And they are not out of step with their sisters in flapperdom. The bachelor girl is no longer withered by years, thanks to beauty experts, and she is up to the minute in manner and dress.

Most bachelor girls are college graduates and have not married chiefly because they are more interested in a career. This does not mean they are haters of men. In fact they are quite about with the same attention often bestowed on fresh young debutantes.

There are very few dinner parties without a sprinkling of bachelor girls. They may have touches of gray in their hair, but they do not smoke a cigarette or imbibe a cocktail like novices. They discuss marriage freely and are not embarrassed by their state of single blessedness.

They give the life many dream about but few attain. They have a beau, mostly understanding fellows who delight to be in their company but realize sentimental attachments impossible. They may only hope. And serve!

Bachelor girls do not "bach" alone. As a rule they team up with other girls determined on commercial or professional careers. They are rare good fellows and hospitable. One of the most hilarious party ante poker games is held weekly in a bachelor girl's apartment. It is "For Men Only." All are rejected suitors.

She goes to the theater or concert on that night, arrives home in time to serve sandwiches and is off to bed, leaving her guests to play until early morning. While independent, the bachelor girl does not boast of her independence. She has like her bachelor brother, become "a good fellow."

VERY block in Manhattan at some time or other during the day unfolds odd bits of drama. Early this morning, well away from 11 o'clock in East Fifty-third street, a gentleman in red plush slippers and a peacock embroidered Chinese dressing gown emerged through the grill door of a private home carrying a large bowl of milk and placed it in a bowl of milk near by. In two minutes a half dozen stray cats headed for the feast. And he was the grouchiest looking old dodo you ever saw outside of the gink with a scrupulous neurosis across the hall who makes all servants wear rubber gloves when they enter his rooms.

CRACK New York salesman says he angled for one prospect eight years before landing him for an order. He was ordered out of the office twice and upon one occasion was forcibly ailed. The irony of it all is that next month he is to become the customer's son-in-law. Headline suggestion: "The Go-Getter Who Got!"

NEW YORK'S opportunities frequently read like a story book. I know a fellow on his uppers for several years. Job after job flizzed for no particular reason save circumstances over which he had no control. He was sober and industrious but affairs had reached such a low ebb his wife went temporarily to live with her folks while he moved from one shabby hall room to another. One morning recently he heard a great building on the avenue was for sale. In the desperate effort to clutch at a straw he sought the owner, who agreed, merely to be rid of him, to give him $250,000 if he found a purchaser at a certain price. In two weeks he found the purchaser and received the reward. And is sitting pretty.

FROM A Denver paper: "O. O. McIntyre speaks of watching a glorious Arizona sunset from the observation platform of a west-bound train, which is the nearest trick of the week." Shucks, after a little practice you get so you can do it on one foot!

SAYS OLDER WOMEN SPEND MOST FOR BEAUTY CULTURE

New Yorker Tells Cosmetics Convention Why Industry Stands Sixth in U. S.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—It is not the flapper but the elderly woman that has made the beauty business the sixth leading industry in the United States, Mrs. Ruth D. Maurer of New York yesterday told the tenth annual convention of the National Association of Cosmetics and Hair Artists.

"Women under 30 years, buying their beauty a la carte, go in extravagantly for faddish makeups and hair-cups, but the larger proportion come from the older women who order their cosmetics and beauty culture table d'hôte from hair waves to pedicures," she said.

Statistics show that the average woman now spends $50 a year on cosmetics and beauty culture, Mrs. Maurer said. She predicted that women in the near future would invest a minimum of $100 a year in this way.

Pola Negri to Sue for Divorce.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Pola Negri, movie actress, was back in New York today with news that she intends to obtain a Paris divorce from Serge Mdivani in November. She was asked if she planned to marry again. She replied: "who knows?"

The Year's Sensation!

PHILCO BALANCED-UNIT
SCREEN GRID all-electric RADIO

Screen Grid
TABLE MODEL only $67.00
Tubes Extra

NOW you can have the supreme advantages of Screen Grid Tubes, radio's newest triumph, in combination with the Philco Balanced-Unit principle which has actually revolutionized radio performance!

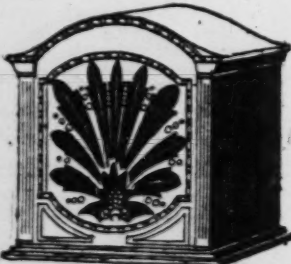

The Philco Table Model

The new Philco Table Model is furnished in a most attractive case, colored to harmonize in quiet dignity with the furnishings of any room. Electrically this model is exactly the same as the Philco Screen Grid Highway de Luxe, which means that it delivers the finest, clearest, truest tone of any radio at any price.

Free Home Demonstration

We are so sure that you will be delighted and amazed by the performance and appearance of this superb set that we want you to try it in your own home and without any obligation whatever. This is the same wonderful radio that you have seen advertised in recent issues of The Saturday Evening Post and other leading magazines. Drop in —or telephone— and we will install one on free demonstration. If you decide to buy, the cost can be distributed in a series of easy payments.

New PHILCO ELECTRO-DYNAMIC SPEAKER

Here is the last word in genuine Electro-Dynamic Speakers. This is not a hybrid magnetic type masquerading as a dynamic. It has a real moving coil in a power field and a metalized fabric (no paper) diaphragm which permits the absolutely perfect reproduction of any note in the musical range, from the lowest to the highest. Every speaker is electrically matched with extreme care to the output stage of the Philco chassis with which it will be used.

ARAB TRIBESMEN MASSING FOR NEW ATTACK ON JEWS

The Ukraine are being cared for by the Near East Relief.
Sniping continued in Jerusalem, but it was expected the arrival today of Sir John Chancellor, High Commissioner, and continual arrival of British troops by air from Egypt should result in restoration of complete order here. Foreign consuls have been in frequent conference regarding the seriousness of the situation.

ENGLISH INQUIRY IN RIOTS EXPECTED

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Aug. 28.—Well informed circles today expressed belief the cabinet of Prime Minister MacDonald would consider shortly some form of inquiry into the origin of Arab-Jewish fighting in Palestine.
It was understood some ministers even believed it would be wiser for the Government to reconsider the entire question of Britain's responsibility in the Holy Land, but this view was not supported generally.
In military circles it was expected, although unconfirmed officially, a permanent military garrison would be established in Palestine with its strength two infantry and one cavalry regiments.

Fast Day for Jews in America Is Proclaimed.

By the Associated Press.
SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Aug. 28.—A general fast day next Wednesday for all Jews in the United States and Canada was declared today by Rabbi Eleazer Silver, of this city, president of the Union of Orthodox Rabbis of the United States and Canada, with the approval of the executive council of the Union.
A general order was also issued for the recital of memorial prayers for 12 days for those Jews who have lost their lives in the Palestine rioting. These 12 days will follow the fast day during which members of the Union will visit congregations of the leading cities to eulogize those who have been killed.

Jerusalem Quiet, but 2000 Said to Be Marching on City.

By the Associated Press.
CAIRO, Aug. 28.—Jerusalem is quiet today with only occasional encounters and casualties, according to a report to the Jewish Telegraphic Agency.

"A day of heavy fighting with many new casualties and one dead passed in Haifa, northwestern Palestine," it was said. "In the evening quiet prevailed." In the afternoon British marines fired on both Jews and Arabs in quelling a mosque attack on the Jewish quarter. Two barracks were destroyed by flames, with no one to extinguish them.

Jerusalem was described as in grave danger, with 2000 armed men, including Druse tribesmen, marching on the city. Three Jewish houses in the old quarter were set afire. The Jewish colony, Motva, near Jerusalem, was in flames at the time of the telephone call.
A part of the colony Tel Joseph was burned down yesterday. Meier Shifoy, a settlement maintained by the Junior Hadassah, America young women's Zionist organization, sent an urgent appeal to the American consul for help. A mil-

Scuffle in Damascus Between Arabs and Police.

By the Associated Press.

BEIRUT, Syria, Aug. 28.—

French authorities reported today that a scuffle had occurred in Damascus between a small number of Arab demonstrators and police.

A few persons were wounded, but the affair was purely local and had no repercussions.

Jewish Delegation Withdraws Washington Protest.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Members of the Jewish delegation which delivered to Secretary Stimson yesterday a letter for Sir Esme

Howard, the British Ambassador, on the Palestine situation, have decided to withdraw the communication for the present.

Reports said the letter was withheld after it was found that some points reciting the Jewish side of the Palestine incidents might be controversial. It was signed by Bernard S. Deutsch, president of the American Jewish Congress, and voiced a "respectful and solemn protest" against the "unspeakable atrocities" in Palestine.

The British foreign office has officially assured the American Government that every effort will be made to protect American lives and property.

Ambassador Dawes informed the State Department today that the assurances were made to him by foreign office officials after he had expressed to them the hope of Secretary Stimson that adequate and comprehensive measures would

of Americans in Palestine.

Consul Paul Knabenshue at

Jerusalem today asked the State Department to assign another consular office to his jurisdiction for duty in Tel Aviv where there are a large number of Americans. The Americans who were in Hebron, including those who were wounded in Jewish-Arab clashes, are now safe in Jerusalem, the consul

ZIONIST LEADERS
MEET IN LONDON

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch

Publishing Cos. (The New York World and Post-Dispatch.)

LONDON, Aug. 28.—Hastily summoned from all over Europe,

leading members of the World

Zionist Executive met last night.

Dr. Chaim Weizmann, president, arrived late yesterday from Switzerland, where he was awaiting an operation. Lord Melchett, formerly Sir Alfred Mond, who is president of the English Zionist Federation, came to London from Scotland. Felix Warburg, American financier and president of the

Zionist Advisory Council, was pres-

Beware The Fallen Arches

BY DAVID CARTER

The Modern Science of Pedology Is a Gauge of Civilization, and Your Big Toe May Be the Index to Various Related Physical and Nervous Troubles

A keen mind puts its possessor "up on his toes"

FLAT FEET keep the American nation from attaining its highest intellectual level is the latest theory advanced by medical men who have made a study of the human foot.

The arch of the foot is connected in no uncertain way with the intellect, say these specialists. As a civilization advances the arches of its individuals grow higher and at the same time more fragile.

Just at the height of a civilization, these high, fragile arches begin to break. And flat-footed people, no matter how mentally superior, may become incapacitated and lazy.

At this point, something must be done to sustain the pedal arches by artificial means. This may be the scientific explanation of the bound feet of the Chinese.

THE foot, then, is not only connected with the intellect but it indicates the type of intellect possessed by the individual. The foot is divided into three parts. The first part is measured from the heel to the center of the arch.

Thus, if your big toe, which is the key, since it extends farther than the rest, is longer than normal, your intelligence is apt to be low.

Frills and Fripperies For Pajamas

THE difference between daytime and night-time pajamas is about 12 inches width in the trouser legs, according to present Paris style standards. Daytime suits, in a majority of cases, have trousers that are almost as wide as skirts.

Some of the more frivolous daytime pajamas have narrow pleated ruffles in place of trouser cuffs. The same pleating appears again on the bottom of the jacket.

chances to meet and attract the man she wants. Not that she always wins him. Men are still kittle cattle. Yet, again, the fashion in unrequited love has changed. The girl suffering from it has an increasingly large collection of consolation prizes from which to choose.

To keep children interested when their hair is cut a barber's chair has been designed like a miniature automobile.

CROQUETTES will have a finer flavor if you season them with LEA & PERRINS' SAUCE

The Chinese custom of bound feet has a logical explanation

correspond. This does not mean that you are a great man or woman; the excessive toe is often found on "temperamental criminals." But if you put your characteristics to the proper use, you are apt to achieve great things.

An overlarge toe, meaning both long and wide, signifies selfishness in woman and caveman propensities in a man.

Thus, to the podologist, guessing the age of a human being becomes as easy as the same process with a horse or a cow. These rings on the toenail are produced by the same natural function which marks time to the Chinese eye on the teeth. Being able, in this manner, to tell not only the present age of an individual, but also to place the time at which he or she has come to maturity, the expert podologist can compute the expectancy of life.

Between infancy and 10 years of age there appears one ring on the nail for every year lived. After 10, the rings become crowded and begin to fade out so that only the alder rings are plainly visible.

WOMAN REVIVES NEGRO SHOUTS

FOR 17 years a woman has searched through settlements along the South Atlantic coast for true interpreters of what is becoming a lost art. She was seeking singers of Negro shout songs that were heard on Southern plantations before the war.

When the artist and his wife established their winter home there nearly 20 years ago, Mrs. Parrish found that there still was a trace of the old plantation songs of a century and a half earlier, in the singing of the present-day inhabitants of the islands.

Now, by these figures, a human being would live five times his age at maturity, if the conditions of his life were scientifically perfect. But under present conditions, with the prevalence of unwholesome food, insufficient care of the body and mind and unimpeded bacteria, it is necessary to divide this ideal figure by two.

ALL this is merely an interesting sidelight on the regular work of the podologist in the curing of flat feet.

It is predicted that within the next few decades flat-foot prophylaxis will become a requirement for all American children, just as foot-binding was considered necessary for all Chinese in their most prosperous period.

Just now there is something like a retrograde movement in our civilized state: jazz dancing. It is borrowed from the jungle and it leads dancers back to the source.

Just as the feet are the key to a person's maturity," say the doctors, "so they denote the maturity of the race. If we go on as we are, we may have nothing but dancing feet, which is to say animal feet, denoting animal intelligence.

But it must be remembered that this fragility is a danger signal. A race of people is only as strong as the thin arches of its feet."

Patent Leather Belts PATENT leather belts from one to three inches wide are an important part of next winter's Paris style kit.

Many designers show the leather belts on dresses, with suits, and coats of tweed. Some of the new jersey dresses are belted at the normal waistline with bands of patent or polished black leather.

plantations abandoned except for a few Negroes who remained to till their little tracts. Here, away from the mainland, the Negroes had little contact with the jazz music of the age.

St. Simons Island was an ideal setting for the revival of the spirit of the plantation-day music. The Civil War saw the old island

Then unexpectedly, a picked group of colored boys and girls, after my schooling them roundly, braced up, did as they were told, followed their leader, Maggie Denison, patted with their hands tapped with their feet—as Maggie was doing—and showed that they had a feeling for rhythm after all.

Not as highly developed as the leaders, but with the right spirit and interest, shortly they began such singing shouts as I had believed beyond recall."

St. Simons Island was an ideal setting for the revival of the spirit of the plantation-day music. The Civil War saw the old island

Women Adding to Influence in All German Politics

GERMANY may be a "man's country," but for all that, women are taking an increasing part in the legislative business of the various German states.

Even a greater proportion of women sit in the Prussian Diet. Of its 450 deputies, 42 are of the fair sex, and again 20 of these are Social-Democrats.

Not even the minor states, where old customs survive longest, are wholly without feminine influence in their local parliaments.

The small diets of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, Thuringen, of Brunswick and of Hesse each have three women members, but Anhalt has only one. The Hamburg House of Burgeses has the largest percentage of women; 15 out of 150 members.

The woman of 40 as a political and industrial world power of the future, as she was an intellectual power in the salons of the past, is the prediction made by some German writers.

In answer to the query, "What is a woman's most interesting age?" a number of authors choose the woman of from 30 to 50 years.

"The woman of 40 of today," wrote Martin J. Ormann in the Berliner Tageblatt, "is leaving her mark on our times in every phase of life."

Modernistic Menus

By Nancy Dorris.

THE aristocratic eggplant, one of the most eye-tantalizing vegetables displayed in the markets, is served less frequently in America than in other countries.

The average housewife is not well versed in eggplant cookery. Egypt, Bulgaria, Greece, Turkey, Rumania, Italy, France, Armenia and India appreciate the purple plant, as their tables bear witness.

Like the tomato, the sweet pepper and the white potato, the eggplant belongs to the nightshade family. Its wholesomeness is undisputed. Known in Italy as the mad apple, it has become highly prized for its flavor and adaptability.

Formerly the vegetable was given special preparation before cooking. No longer is the fresh flesh soaked in salted water or pressed under a weight to remove the precious juice.

Baking time: Forty-five minutes at 350 degrees F.

The eggplant and tomato flavors are blended during the baking period and enriched by the buttery crumbs.

Wipe the small eggplant and the tomatoes with a damp cloth. The latter should be firm and not too ripe. Plunge into hot water and remove the skins. Let cool. Crush the crumbs upon the board.

Peel the eggplant very thin and cut into dice upon the board. Two cups will be needed. Dice the tomatoes to make two cups. Combine in the mixing bowl and season with salt, pepper, the sugar and onion juice, or minced onion.

Serve in the baking dish with lamb chops or lamb roast and new potatoes.

Clean Fruit. Wipe off the fruit you have bought at market with a clean, slightly damp cloth before you put it away. This will clean it and check any rot that may have gotten on it from other fruit.

We asked 305 Famous Beauty Shops..

"Can you tell from looking at a woman's hands whether she does her own work?"

Here is the answer of these beauty experts—"With all our experience we cannot distinguish between the hands of a woman with maids and the hands of the woman who uses Lux in her dishpan. Lux gives the hands real beauty care."

Isn't it wonderful to know that Lux in your dishpan... for all your soap and water tasks... means hands as truly lovely as those of the woman of leisure and wealth?

Here is the reason—Lux suds are so very bland they protect the precious beauty oils of the skin... many soaps dry up these oils, leaving hands rough and drawn looking.

Yet, Lux for your dishes costs less than 1c a day!

(Body Odor)

"What can be wrong with me?" Helen wondered after the manager's talk.

"My work is satisfactory. Why can't I hold my jobs—or my friends, either?"

Then Helen's married sister came on a visit. Tactfully, she told Helen what her handicap was. "B. O."—Body Odor. Let Helen give you the story.

"What a mean trick 'B. O.' played on me!

"I never seemed to perspire much. I never noticed any offensive odor. So I thought I was safe. Instead, I was guilty.

"Now, I take no chances—I use Lifebuoy. The pores always give off odor-causing waste—as much as a quart daily my doctor says. But Lifebuoy's mild, antiseptic lather purifies and prevents 'B.O.' Even removes cigarette odor from the hands.

"Lifebuoy keeps my skin so clear, too. And the whole family rely on it to guard against germs. Its pleasant, extra-clean scent, that vanishes as you rinse, tells you that Lifebuoy purifies."

RALSTON WHEAT FLAKES

WHOLE WHEAT Bran and all

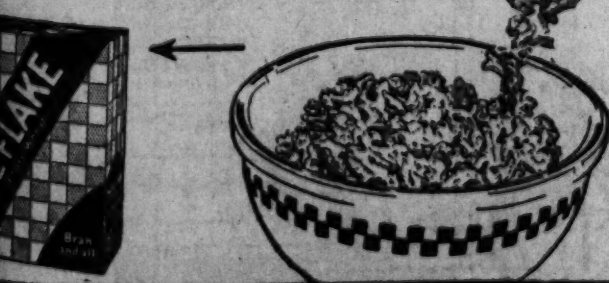

Um-m-m! Whole Wheat Flakes

You know flakes. But you'll never know how temptingly delicious flakes can be until you try these whole wheat flakes. Ralston Wheat Flakes is sun-ripened whole wheat... flaked and toasted golden crisp. All the goodness and food value of whole wheat is left in.

Buy a package today. Serve Ralston Wheat Flakes regularly. Children love it.

Re-named

Ralston Wheat Flakes was formerly called Mapl-Flake. Now better, crisper and more tempting than ever.

Two cheerful young ladies were wanted to rent the spare room in a home. A Post-Dispatch Room For Rent advertisement found them promptly.

No "Miracles" ... just real service the modern view about OIL HEAT

The entire viewpoint of Oil Heat is changed. Common sense has supplanted misconception. The entire matter is a question of whether or not you want more comfort for your family than old-time methods can give. KLEEN HEET will give your family this added comfort at a nominal cost. KLEEN HEET is manufactured by the Winslow Boiler & Engineering Company, one of the oldest and largest manufacturers of Oil Burners in the world, and have Oil Burners to fit any type of heating plant, regardless of how large or how small. For over six years THE KLEEN HEET COMPANY OF ST. LOUIS have put their entire efforts in the sales, installation and service of KLEEN HEET OIL BURNERS, and nothing else, and are now in a position to offer you an Oil Heating Service that is unexcelled.

KLEEN HEET is quiet and efficient, and can be bought on liberal terms.

WALL STREET LOANS SHOW INCREASE OF 132 MILLIONS

New High Figure—Stock Market Climbs Steadily With New Leaders Constantly Brought Forward.

SPECIALTIES AND RAILS LEAD EARLY

Auburn Auto Soars 40 Points—Gains of 5 to 10 Points Recorded by More Than Dozen Issues.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Many experienced stock market observers looked for a highly irregular or revolutionary stock market today, because of the approach of the three-day holiday and the possibility of a large increase in brokers' loans. Instead, the market climbed steadily upward, with new leaders constantly brought forward to maintain bullish enthusiasm. Early trading centered largely in the rail and a few industrial specialties. Speculative interest shifted to the public utilities and a varied assortment of miscellaneous issues, such as Simmons, Anaconda Wire and Cable and Atlas Powder, all up 1/4 to 3/4 points. Loans up $122,000,000.

Loans to brokers held by New York Federal Reserve member banks for the week ending Aug. 23 were announced by the Federal Reserve Board after close of market as $1,217,000,000, representing an increase of $122,000,000, setting a new high record. Analysis of the report shows gains for own account of $992,000,000, increase $66,000,000; for account of out of town banks, $1,216,000,000, decrease $31,000,000; and for account of others, $2,489,000,000, increase $26,000,000. Credit conditions were unchanged. Call money held steady at 3 per cent and time loans quoted at 3 1/2 to 5. A stronger undertone was apparent in the commodity market. Wheat advanced 2c to 2 3/4c a bushel. Cotton moved 1/4c higher. Corn advanced fractionally. Soybean oil advanced 1/4c. A downward revision of private crop estimates.

Neither the Bank of England nor the New York Federal Reserve Bank made any changes in the discount rate.

Auburn Auto Soars 40 Points.
Auburn Auto was the spectacular individual feature, soaring points to a new peak at 49 1/2. It slipped back to 48 1/2. The stockette ran up 35 points to 100. Webster was pushed up 14 points to a new high of 130 1/2 and closed within a fraction of the top.

Net gains of five to 10 points were recorded by National American, American Waterworks, H. H. Macy, Ingersoll-Rand, Standard Gas & Electric, American Fuel Power, A. M. Byers, Humboldt Carbon, Procter & Gamble, North American Co., Athol and "Nickel Plate".

Steel Closes Higher.
U. S. Steel common, selling at 11 1/2, closed at 12 1/4 for a gain of 1 1/4. Bethlehem Steel advanced 1/4 to 11 1/4. General Motors, Chrysler and Hudson's fractions lower, while American Telephone, American Can, American Copper and International Paper recorded small gains.

The announcement that the United States and Germany reached an agreement on a young plan was without influence on the foreign exchange market, which moved within rather narrow limits. Sterling rose from 144 to 144 1/4. Oklahoma Oil Cut Price.
Prospects for a substantial improvement in production in Oklahoma, the pending reduction in production in Texas and the belief that a decline in prices of Mid-Continent oil will be delayed several weeks contributed to a decline in the petroleum market. The proposed agreement in the Oklahoma City pool, would curtail production of about 50,000 barrels a day for a period of 30 days. It is hoped that production will be curtailed by 100,000 barrels a day by the second week of December 1.
